CHALLENGE EXPLAINED

Pulpit Occupied by Burbank

Naturalist Denounces Dogmas and Declares Hell Fire Creed "Damnable"

"Infidel" Defends Freedom of Thought and Appeals for Reason in Bible

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—Luther Burbank, the noted horticulturist of Santa Rosa, spoke at the pulpit of the First Congregational Church here today and declared "the idea that a good God would send people to a burning hell is utterly damnable to me."
Rev. James L. Gordon, pastor of the church, in introducing Mr. Burbank, said he would follow the horticulturist's wish and not call him famous, but simply Luther Burbank. "And he is our pulpit guest because we love him," Rev. Gordon added.
The white-haired horticulturist, who recently announced that he was an "infidel," read his message from a prepared manuscript. Mr. Burbank was invited to speak from the pulpit several weeks before he announced that he was an "infidel."
"I love everybody! I love everything," said Mr. Burbank. "I love humanity, it has been a constant delight during all my seventy-seven years of life, and I love all the works of nature."
"All plants, animals and man are already in eternity traveling across the face of time, whence we know not, whither, who is able to tell? Let us have one world at a time."

APPEAL TO REASON
Let us read the Bible without the ill-fitting colored spectacles of theology, just as we read other books, using our own judgment and reason.
"Most of us possess discriminating reasoning powers—we can use them or must be fed by others like babies."
"What does the Bible mean when it distinctly says by their works ye shall know them? Works count for more than words with those who think clearly."
"Surprises long ago said, 'who have not spoken his free thought as a slave.' I nominated myself an 'infidel' as a challenge to thought for those who are asleep. The word is harmless if properly used."

Trans-Atlantic Flight Ends

Three Spaniards Land On Brazilian Coast After Nine-Day Trip

Distance Covered in Voyage From Homeland 3683 Miles

(BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
PERNAMBUCO (Brazil) Jan. 31.—Another epic of the air was written this afternoon when three intrepid Spanish airmen, Commander Ramon Franco, Capt. Luis De Alda, reserve pilot, and Pablo Rada, mechanic, landed safely at this Brazilian coastal town at 4:45, completing the first successful flight between the mainland of Europe and the mainland of South America, a distance of 3683 miles.
The airmen in their plane, Ne Plus Ultra, began the epochal flight Friday, the 22nd inst., from Palos, Spain, starting from the same spot as did Christopher Columbus in 1492 on his memorable trip to find a new route to India. They reached Las Palmas the same day in about eight hours. There they were delayed by bad weather. Their next flight was to Rio de Janeiro, where they landed on Saturday morning, the 26th, in nine and one-half hours. The trip from Rio de Janeiro to the island of Fernando do Noronha, a distance of 1432 miles, was made Saturday in about fifteen hours, during which the flyers crossed the Equator under a broiling sun and depressing humidity. The flight to the mainland, a distance of 279 miles, was completed today. The airmen tomorrow will proceed to Buenos Aires by way of Rio de Janeiro.
A great crowd was on hand to welcome the airmen from the "other country" and they did it as only the Latin race can. As the big seaplane appeared on the horizon like a huge bird, the groups on shore set up a series of wild cheers that grew louder as the plane neared the coast. As the flyers landed amidst cheers, music and the roar of cannon. Troops were immediately rushed to the landing spot to protect the airmen.

BROADCAST TESTS FAIL TO SATISFY

Conditions of Atmosphere Blamed For Failure to Hear Foreign Programs

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—The third international broadcasting tests which ended last night were according to reports received from all parts of the United States and from abroad, the least successful of three tests so far. Arthur H. Lynch, editor of Radio Broadcast and a member of the committee in charge said tonight.
Mr. Lynch attributed the poor results to atmospheric conditions, which he said, were during the entire week, the worst for the time of year I have known in my sixteen years radio experience.
"Our entire effort seems to have been spent in vain," Mr. Lynch said. "More American stations were heard abroad last year and during the first test the year before than this year."
According to reports from abroad many stations which during other tests were heard in Europe failed to get through this year.
Last night's results were disappointing, Mr. Lynch said. At his listening post at Rockville Center, L. I., he said, he "couldn't tune in anything." During his week's trial he said he could definitely pin down one European station though, like hundreds of other listeners, he heard snatches of foreign programs.

GEORGE D. SQUIRES DIES

Political Adviser of Governor and Member of Rail Commission Succumbs at Age of 71

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—George D. Squires, close friend and political adviser of Gov. Richardson and member of the State Railroad Commission, died today at the St. Francis Hospital. Pneumonia, coupled with a heart attack, caused his death. He was 71 years of age. Squires was taken to the hospital from his home in Woodside last Friday.
Squires was born on a farm near Racine, Wis., in 1855. He came to California in 1873. For twenty-one years he was a newspaper man in San Francisco. He was a past president of the San Francisco Press Club. Squires entered the employ of The Chronicle in 1879, remaining until 1883 when he entered the employ of the Bulletin, and later became Washington correspondent of the Associated Press.
In 1895 he was admitted to the bar of the State of California, and for many years he was employed by the Southern Pacific Company and other railroads. In 1922 Squires managed Gov. Richardson's gubernatorial campaign. In March, 1923, Squires was appointed State insurance commissioner to succeed E. M. Cooper. Last year he was appointed by Gov. Richardson to the position of chief of the state police.
Squires leaves his widow, Mrs. Elsie Squires, and several children.

"For seven weeks she has been struggling against an attack of appendicitis," said an announcement today from Salvation Army headquarters. Passenger Liner Stands by Disabled Victim of Sea; Atlantic Gales Damage Shipping

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Another passenger boat halted in mid-Atlantic tonight to aid a stricken freighter, the latest victim of the North Atlantic's week-long storm. Capt. Graff of the Hamburg-American liner Westphalia wireless that he was standing by the Dutch steamer Alkaid in answer to a request for help.

EVEREST TO BE FLIGHT GOAL

French Ace Will Seek to Conquer Tip of World in Specially Constructed Biplane

(BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
Copyright, 1926, by North American Newspaper Alliance
PARIS, Jan. 31.—Lieut. Jean Colazo, holder of the world's altitude record has completed his plans to conquer Mt. Everest, the world's highest mountain peak, by airplane. He will use a light two-seater biplane, now nearing completion in the Blériot factory, in his effort to draw aerial circles over the top of the king of the Himalayas.
The famous "final pyramid," which no man has yet seen at close range.
The plane to be used is a light and speedy one, tipping the scales at only 2300 pounds. The fuselage is of wood, twenty-seven feet long, with a wing spread of thirty-nine feet and a wing surface of thirty-seven square meters. After completion next month, it will be tested at the factory and immediately crated for shipment to India. This is done to keep it fresh for its task.
The expedition, known officially as the "Callizo Mt. Everest expedition," will include Callizo, his navigator and two mechanics. They will take a steamer out of London or Marseilles early in March, sailing for Calcutta, where the biplane will be assembled and the hop-off made. The peak of Everest reaches upward only 29,002 feet. His main concern, therefore, will not be one of altitude, but a fight against the vicious wind currents which eddy about the mountain top.
FLY'S SPECIAL PLANE
The aviator will attempt his climb in a special two-seater biplane, equipped with a single 500-horsepower Jupiter engine. He and his navigator will try to circle close enough over the peak to film

MUD MIRES GIANT MAIL AIRPLANES

Craft Reaching Des Moines Sink to Axles In Muck With Field Flooded

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
DES MOINES (Iowa) Jan. 31.—Iowa mud is proving too much for Uncle Sam's air mail planes here, according to neighbors about the landing field, who watched the attempt to land a biplane here this morning, mired in mud.
The entire local field is under water from recent melting snow and has become so churned that the planes passing through last night got out only with the greatest difficulty. It is anticipated that Des Moines will be cut off from the service.
Three planes were sunk to the axles of the running gear during the night. Both east and west-bound planes were slowed up and those who have seen the field declare that the slough has deepened during the day until it would be impossible to extricate another viator.
The field here has been operated only since last July and has not yet been put on a permanent basis. Graveling and drainage projects have been discussed as preventive measures, but no such swamping was anticipated.

WORK DENIES PLEA TO DELAY OIL HEARINGS

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Denying a plea of Charles E. Hughes for postponement, Secretary Work has ordered that the hearings of the Federal Oil Board on the petroleum industry be held as scheduled February 10 and 11. Mr. Hughes, acting for the American Petroleum Institute, declared more time was needed for preparation of data but Mr. Work, who is chairman of the board, found it inadvisable to grant the postponement.

Three inches of rain fell in Los Angeles yesterday during the heaviest rainstorms that has visited the city in several years, but not equaling the record of 4.20 inches in twenty-four hours during February, 1916. At 9 p.m. the official total for the day was 2.94 inches and rain continued at intervals with every indication that the three-inch mark was passed. The seasonal total was 6.84 inches as compared to 3.07 inches at the same date last year. More rain is predicted for today.

The rain, which was generally increased to a real downpour, marked the definite end of the dry spell, which has gripped Southern California for two months. Col. H. B. Hershey of the United States Weather Bureau said last night, "The area of high pressure, which has kept clouds from the skies, has gone out to sea and in its place has come a low pressure area which promises more rainfall."

Showers extended over all Southern California from the lower San Joaquin Valley to Imperial Valley and from the sea into the desert. The storm apparently centered around Los Angeles, the rain decreasing both to the north and south. Bakersfield reported 16 of an inch, while El Centro had 25 of an inch. San Diego's total was .64 of an inch.
Although streets were flooded and many complaints were received by street-department officials, practically no serious storm damage had been reported last night. On the contrary, according to H. J. Ryan, County Horticulturalist, great benefit will result to fruit growers and ranchers of Southern California.
GROWERS WELCOME RAIN
"There are no crops that can be harmed by the showers," Ryan said, "but there are many which will be aided. The storm is especially welcome to grain growers. The rain also will please citrus fruit-growers and farmers in general. It will be a decided impetus to planting, which has been held up by the long drought."
In Los Angeles precipitation began about 2 a.m. and soon

Heavy and Continuing Snow and Rain in Mountains and Valleys of Inestimable Worth to Crops

Throughout the Sacramento, Santa Clara and San Joaquin valleys heavy falls of rain were reported. At its source the Sacramento River rose rapidly. Sierras were noted as far south as Sacramento. A warm rain falling on snow at the source was given as cause for the rise. At Kennel it had reached the nine-foot mark this morning. At Red Bluff the gauge showed twelve feet five inches.

CHINA HARRIED TO PAY JAPAN

Diet's Fate Hinging On Redemption of Loan Money Thrust On Debtor In 1918 of No Benefit

Observer Sketches Details of Agitating Situation

Following is the first of a series of articles written by Alfred R. Fierce, Tokyo representative of The Times, on the situation in China. Mr. Fierce made a special trip to North China for The Times to obtain data for these articles.

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
TOKYO, Jan. 31.—One of the main questions that will be discussed by the Japanese Diet, which is in session now, is the redemption of the Nishihara loans, made by Japan to China in 1918. On this question may depend the fate of the Cabinet, though there are other questions, too, which may cause the ministry to fall.

The word "loans" is largely a misnomer in this case. In fact the loans were thrust upon China and the money went not to produce anything worthwhile for the Chinese people, not for the construction of railways, not for the maintenance of a gang of Peking puppets who were pulling the strings in the Chinese capital for Japan. The amount of the loan is 150,000,000 yen (gold $75,000,000 at normal exchange) and was negotiated by Mr. Nishihara.

Time is a strange alchemist, and in China, where the turn of events, in even twenty-four hours, reveals a startling difference from the preceding twenty-four hours, the political kaleidoscope performs some real marvels.

In 1924 China had a civil war, she has one or more every year. These civil wars, though of some importance to China, are of no major importance in themselves to the rest of the world. They have achieved importance because the powers have utilized them for purposes that are not absolutely above board.

GAVE SECRET AID
Japan, for instance, utilized the 1924 civil war—the one between Wu and Chang—to safeguard the Nishihara loans. This is how she went to work. She secretly aided Chang and a very small body of well disciplined, well armed Japanese troops can do wonders, and did, with the rabble that passes off for Chinese soldiery.

Chang won and Wu fled to a prepared hiding place somewhere in the valley of the Yangtze. As a quid pro quo, Chang, who was then the strongest military leader in North China, in response to Japan's requests, put the Anfu clique back in power. The Anfu clique negotiated the Nishihara loans and so, for time, it seemed as though the Nishihara money was safe.

But, in China, things are not what they seem. The Anfu leaders were soon kicked out when Wang, the "Christian general," betrayed his chief, Wu Pei-fu. The spirit of nationalism was also growing stronger and stronger where laborers were demanding a better status both as individuals and as being of the Chinese nation. The demand for a rise of wages and for better treatment was at first resented by the nationalists of those powers who have factories in China and whose chief reason for having factories there was because of the piteously cheap labor.

The demands were refused and, in the Shanghai industrial region, workers went on strike immediately. The Japanese-owned mills being specially made the butt of the agitators. Enforced idleness and the fiercest of agitators resulted in minor riots and the British police of Shanghai, in defending Japanese interests, fired on a crowd of coolies led by school boys. This constituted what is now known as the May 30 shootings. The British became the butt of the Chinese malcontents who transferred their hatred, almost overnight, from the Japanese to the British.

CHINA MUST PAY
In the meantime, the China customs conference was called. It is now sitting in Peking. China, through Dr. C. T. Wang, has formulated a series of demands, not the least being complete tariff autonomy. Japan, very anxious to curry favor and to have the finances of China pass into China's hands, openly promised, through Mr. Hiroki, her chief delegate, to give the Chinese every possible assistance in this direction.

PIOUS POLITICIAN PETRIFIES PRESS

Oklahoma Democrat Bars Sunday Interviews on Moral Grounds

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 31.—Maynard Cornelius, new chairman of the Democratic Central Committee of Oklahoma county, has declined to be interviewed for publication on Sunday.

"Six days in the week is enough to devote to business," he said, when a reporter called as he was getting ready to attend his Bible class at the Presbyterian Church. "I consider politics as business. I want to understand that I am giving no attention whatever to politics on Sunday. Sunday is a day of rest, so decreed by the Founder of civilization, and I propose to continue to so observe it."

position that not merely China, but the powers, too, have promised to pay her back. Thus viewed, the Nishihara loans will come under a certain category of respectability they have never hitherto enjoyed. Japan's diplomacy is not the least of her national assets.

Readers may ask: "But China borrowed; why should she not be repaid?" Repudiation of a genuine debt is not a decent thing. The point is that China never borrowed. The loans were against these loans. Not a penny of this money went toward doing China or the Chinese the slightest bit of good. On the contrary, the money only spread more lawlessness in China through the warlords receiving part of the booty which these in power in Peking promised them, and the same money was the means whereby healthy efforts aimed at the regeneration of the big Asiatic Republic were brought to naught. A small clique took the money and bartered away for a measure of potage the birth-right of China.

This does not mean that the writer is indulging in the cheap pastime of bush-whacking Japan. The European powers have done as Japan has done in the past. Japan as a "civilized" and "superior" nation was doing what other similar cultured peoples had already done to "inferior" China. Japan even did better than the others. She did not resort to opium wars, nor did she make the matter of the murder of a couple of missionaries a pretext for swallowing an entire province. Japan's action, really, when compared with that of others, is a model in the gentle art of debt-collecting diplomacy, which is the fundamental policy of the powers toward China today.

PLANS OF PAYMENT
All manner of plans are being evolved and discussed as to how to settle China's indebtedness. Britain, very recently, was for using the big stick. The United States and Japan, however, will not have that—the United States because the American people won't stand for it and Japan because she does not want any foreign power to have an iota of additional strength on the Chinese continent, since she thinks this may later menace her.

There, there has been proposed a Dawes scheme for China. But, without a central government, how is the Dawes scheme going to work? In Germany it was different. In China the so-called Central Government of Peking is a pure diplomatic fiction. The authority of this "government" does not extend beyond the walls of Peking.

What the powers regard as the central government of China is really that coterie of scheming individuals who thrust themselves or are thrust by some warlord into "power" and find that they must pay the pawnbroker on even the office furniture. What, then, is the solution of the problem of China? Nonintervention and a suitable breathing space for the Chinese to adjust themselves to the new conditions. It took the United States with no foreign nation interfering, quite a long time to recover from the effects of the Civil War. Why not give China a fair chance?

(Another article by Mr. Fierce will appear shortly.)

VOLUME OF TAX INCREASES

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Receipts for the two years shows that despite generally lower levels of tax rate in effect during the calendar year 1925, the Federal government received a greater volume of taxes than it did in 1924.

Official figures for the two years, made public tonight by the Bureau of Internal Revenue, showed total receipts of $2,694,257,246 for 1925, compared with $2,688,045,420 for 1924, or an increase last year of $6,211,826.

The revenues from sources other than the income tax failed to go forward under the stimulus of reduced taxation. The income taxes, however, yielded $1,825,704,135 last year, a gain of $24,599,724 over 1924. Miscellaneous receipts dropped from $858,941,208 in 1924 to $863,553,110 in 1925.

The bureau's statement on receipts for the two years shows that California paid $127,160,176 in 1924 as against $128,816,872 in 1925, an increase in the latter year of $1,656,696.

DRESS WEIGHT IS MINIMIZED
(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
LONDON, Jan. 31.—In tests conducted in London it was shown that the women of today are wearing nearly seventeen pounds less clothing than their sisters of a century or two ago, or even their grandmothers.

The weight of the ordinary garments of today reaches only three and one-half pounds against a weight of over twenty pounds in Shakespeare's day. The weight of today's flapper garments are:

Afternoon dress, fifteen ounces; underwear, four ounces; corset, five ounces; silk stockings, one and one-quarter ounces; garters, one-half ounce; shoes, one pound, six ounces, and hat, eight ounces.

HEROES OF SEA ACCLAIMED

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS)
PLYMOUTH (Eng.) Jan. 31.—British conservatism went by the boards today when the storm battered United States liner President Roosevelt entered Plymouth Sound at 10 a.m. carrying twenty-five members of the crew of the British freighter Antinoe, whose lives the Americans saved after a four-day battle in midocean.

The whistles and sirens of hundreds of ships and factories greeted the men whose valor transcended national lines and has focused the eyes of the world on Capt. Fried and his gallant crew. Their work of mercy succeeded, though it cost the lives of two rescuers.

"Well done," was the signal hoisted on two tenders which steamed out to meet the Roosevelt. Capt. Fried responded with flags spelling "Thank you."

All manner of craft in the great naval harbor bore crew which shouted their welcome. The tenders were crowded with notables representing the Admiralty, but made way for a little while whooping with joy who was first person to cross the lower bridge to the deck of the Roosevelt. She was Mrs. Harry H. Wilson, wife of the Antinoe's captain.

She rushed into the arms of husband and collapsed. Capt. Fried carried her to a seat and soon her until she regained her composure.

to figure that I've got any competition in the tailoring business.

By this I do not infer that other tailors cannot make good clothing.

I do not think I am the only pebble on the beach. But I do know this—and you men know it, too: that where an organization has unlimited capital and unlimited credit, if credit is necessary, that such an organization is in a position to buy in large quantities at price concessions that cannot possibly be had by the ordinary.

That is the real reason why I can give a greater tailoring value than most folks realize.

And the fact that I can and do buy on a large cash basis is reflected in the exceedingly low prices I am able to make on these super-value Two-Pants-Suits.

This thought is just passed along to you men, whom I feel are just curious enough to find out how well known I really am.

And just for the sake of argument, if you are interested enough to take the time, I'll give you a list of John Wright's customers to scan that will take you a month of Sundays to go over.

All of which goes to prove that I've got a following, and a mighty big one, of men who have found real tailoring satisfaction at prices within the reach of all.

There Isn't Any Question As to My Supremacy In VALUE Giving, In This or Any Other City, In Two-Pants Suits at $34

When I made this great purchase of six hundred and ninety bolts of high grade, all wool, American, English and Scotch materials it represented the largest single purchase of any tailoring establishment in this country. It represented a vast cash outlay that would stagger the imagination of the average big merchant. But the materials were so good and the price so attractive I knew for a certainty that the question of their disposition at $34 per suit, with two pairs of pants, was a sure-fire thing.

I knew that when I presented them to my patrons that they would see the value and unhesitatingly buy them.

And my confidence has been sustained to the limit of my expectations. Men are buying them by two's and three's.

Doctors, lawyers, business and professional men and men in all walks of life are being measured for these great "super-values." And well they may, for where else is it possible to buy a perfect fitting, well made, tailored-to-measure two-pants suit for the trifling sum of $34 that stands on a par with suits selling for upward of $70.00? Other great values at slight advance in price.

WHEATON STAR SCORES TWICE

Makes Pair of Touchdowns in First Quarter

George Wilson Injured Ear in Second Period

Crowd of 6000 Sees Bears Grid Victory

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
SEATTLE, Jan. 31.—George Wilson, mightiest of Washington grid men and one of the greatest players in the Northwest, today produced, attempted to stop him, Grange and his team, in the Co. League game, park here today. Wilson returned to his home town, a professional star and before a crowd of 6000 fans, played a sensational football until he was worn out from the game just before half ended. The Bears won, 6 to 0.

Grange, the galloping torque of Illinois, played the entire half and against a weak, unorganized team of Washington all-stars, impressed the natives occasionally by sneaking off to a long run, catching a pass. It was not real contest between Wilson and Grange such as witnessed by both football enthusiasts of both Los Angeles and San Francisco. Cause Wilson was powerless to break away.

The game today completed the Bears' continental tour which has taken them from Chicago to New York, south to Florida, across the continent to Los Angeles and up the Pacific Coast. They have played before mediocre audiences in every city between New York and Los Angeles.

The Bears were not warmly greeted in either Seattle or Portland, where crowds of 3000 witnessed the contest. Most of the Bears are planning to return to their homes in the East tonight.

Grange did not participate in the scuffled game during the first half and the rest of the mob of small boys came for glimpses of their hero, Red Grange, gradually eluded the policemen and in the closing minutes of the game, Grange was stormed on the bench by an army of 10000 roars. He fought them off, a flashed into the tubular street.

The game was marred by the serious injury of one of the visiting players. Attempting to receive a pass from Dutch Allard, former Co. League star, Rolly Corbett, who is a luminary and West Seattle Athletic Club player, who was working an end, collided with Earl H. H. Grange's stable mate, at 11. It was a fast play, both coming together at full speed. Corbett was carried from the field, leg broken. The injured Washington player was probably in poor condition, but the blow was a stiff one. He was removed to City Hospital in an ambulance.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—From

That is quite as important

As four is made up of Eric G. Teddy Miller, Arthur Perand Carleton Burke. It looks much as if the players on the team are getting ready for another try to the East if there is to be an international cup challenge in the course of time from Great Britain. If they are contemplat-

Pedley was one of the international four to withdraw from the game because he had no better place to play. If all the four who were actively engaged in it, in case they had no better place to play the season as proposed at the last agreement, they would have to play without much place in 1937, or ever the series may take place as he did when it was last played at Brookline.

PEDLEY LIKED

There was quite a Pedley sentiment Long Island way, just because the last international match, expected to take place in 1937, was quite as easy as it proved because of the general upset to the British team by the American side. Watson Webb moved up to No. 1 and Malcolm Macdonald came in after the withdrawal of Louis Hard from possible nomination for the American side, the American side were sure in their own

Prize-winning jokes, and names and addresses of winners, appear only on the screen. Jokes receiving honorable mention will be given a place of honor on The Times comic page each week-end, and each of these contributors will receive a souvenir of "Local Laughs."

Going the Skyscraper One Better

WHEN we say a Shaw-Walker steel-filing cabinet is "Built Like a Skyscraper", we understate our case. It is built better than a skyscraper.

The skeleton is built of skyscraper steel, with uprights, crosspieces, girders and reinforcements spot-welded together — built like a skyscraper. Then we put on sides and top and spotweld the whole structure into one solid piece of steel — built better than a skyscraper.

And the drawers are not back-breakers! Each one, a solid piece of steel, rolls in or out at a touch when fully loaded.

The only genuine "Built-Like-a-Skyscraper" file bears the name Shaw-Walker. The same name goes on, the same quality goes into, Shaw-Walker desks, safes, indexing, cards, folders, guides and bank equipment.

Shaw-Walker products cost no more. Why accept substitutes? Send for a "Skyscraper" man.

RUSS TO TRADE GEMS FOR HOES

Crown Jewels Will be Put On Public Sale

List Comprises 406 Pieces Worth $264,000,000

Money Will Be Spent on Farm Machinery

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS) MOSCOW, Jan. 31.—Soviet Russia is ready to turn her crown jewels into American tractors and machinery. Negotiations are in progress for the sale of the vast collection of gems to America and other foreign jewelers but it is realized that private buyers can take only a negligible portion of the treasures because of their enormous value. The government, therefore, is prepared to exchange the remainder for American agricultural machinery, locomotives and other products Russia urgently needs.

"We want to turn the glitter of our 25,000 diamonds into the glitter of American steel," said one high official to the correspondent of the Associated Press today. These magnificent jewels were bought by Russia from former tyrants with the sweat, toil and tears of our peasants; we desire now to give them back to the peasants in the form of implements with which to till the ground or machinery for industries. We already have turned millions of military bayonets into plowshares and wish now to turn the imperial jewels into tractors.

LACKS MONEY

Russia makes no secret of the fact that she lacks money for equipment to reconstruct her shattered industries. Having failed to obtain loans abroad in the last eight years she is obliged to utilize her own resources for the rehabilitation of the economic fabric. The government intended to spend the receipts from grain exports for American machinery, but despite the crop, the plan for collecting grain from the peasants was not fully realized and orders for foreign machinery had to be curtailed.

Officials point out that the crown jewels are only one of many resources that Russia, if pressed, might convert into cash; others include mining and oil concessions and museum treasures, among them several hundred paintings by such masters as Rubens, Rembrandt, Van Dyke and Raphael, valued at $1,000,000,000. The Soviet officials are determined, however, not to part with the museum treasures.

HUNDREDS OF PIECES

The Associated Press today obtained the first complete and accurate description of the regal emblems from official sources. The jewels date from Peter the Great to Nicholas II. They comprise 406 separate pieces of jewelry; the total weight of the diamonds alone is 25,000 carats, pearls 3,000, sapphires 4300, emeralds 3200, uncut rubies 1300, and a great variety of miscellaneous stones. No other historical collection of gems, whether royal or private, according to the Russian officials, approaches the crown jewels, either in value or historical interest. The present collection does not represent all the Russian crown jewels, only those covering the last 200 years. The jewels worn by Russian potentates reverting to the Seventeenth Century are still in the Kremlin at Moscow or the Hermitage Gallery at Leningrad.

The jewels offered for sale are obtained by Russian, French and Czechoslovakian gem experts variously, but the average of their estimates is $264,000,000, about $50,000,000 greater than Russia's debt to the United States. Of the 406 items in the collection, 20 per cent were supplied by Peter the Great, 40 per cent by Elizabeth, Catherine the Great and Paul; 25 per cent by Alexander I and Nicholas I; 10 per cent by Alexander II and Alexander III and 5 per cent by Nicholas II.

So, contrary to general belief, the last Czar and Czarina were relatively moderate in their expenditures for crown jewels. During the last years of her life the Empress was so absorbed in mysticism that she regarded the wearing of jewels as unlucky and cast them aside.

CROWN VALUABLE

Conspicuous among the collection are three crowns. The largest of these, the Imperial crown of all the Russias, was made for the coronation of Catherine the Great in 1762 and contains 4958 diamonds, seventy-five huge pearls and many other large stones. Surmounting the crown is a superb cross of diamonds supported by an uncut ruby of 402 carats, one of the world's largest. Encircling the dome formed by the mitre this diadem typifies the association of the sovereign with the patriarchate. The crown is valued at $52,000,000.

The principal articles are nine emblematic globes, scepters and chains of fine craftsmanship, containing diamonds, pearls and rubies weighing as much as fifty carats each; twenty-three magnificent crosses, many stars, miscellaneous ornaments, sixteen gorgeous laces of diamonds and pearls, fifty-six brooches, ten tiaras, nine diamond-studded lockets, twenty-nine pairs of earrings, including one set of gigantic emeralds of 174 carats each, forty-two rings, seventy-four pins and nineteen snuff boxes, heavily jeweled.

ABANDON OIL WELL

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) OXNARD, Jan. 31.—The Gulf Oil Company's well on the R. L. Beardsley property at Springville will be abandoned, it was reported here today. The well is down 5398 feet, but as far as can be learned no oil has been found. The drill went through about 2000 feet of a hard oil formation. The oil was too heavy to pump. However, it indicates that oil is in the Springville section somewhere, and it is believed another attempt will be made to find it.

MARS SPEEDING TOWARD EARTH

February Heavens Discussed by Astronomer

Origin of "Dog Days" Found in Night Sky

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE) WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Mars will travel 22,000,000 miles toward the earth during February—almost 1,000,000 miles a day—and by April 1, next, will be neighborly enough to outline his rival Antares. Even then it will be 146,000,000 miles away.

A bulletin by the American Nature Association also brings out the origin of "dog days" heard about in summer.

Canis Major, meaning Greater Dog, is the name of the constellation following immediately after Orion and visible in the south-east in the early evening hours of February. The northeast of Canis Major and not far distant is Canis Minor, the Lesser Dog. These two constellations represent the two hounds that follow close on the heels of Orion as he strides across the heavens facing Taurus the Bull.

Sirius and Procyon, the brightest stars of these two constellations, often are called the Dog Star and the Little Dog Star. Canis Minor is a very inconspicuous constellation. Canis Major, however, contains, in addition to Sirius, the brightest of all the stars in the heavens, four stars of the second magnitude and two of the third. Sirius marks the nose of the dog, the star Beta is in his uplifted forepaw. Sirius was known to the Egyptians as the Nile Star and was the object of worship.

As it then rose with the sun at the summer solstice, just before the annual overflow of the Nile, its influence was believed to be very favorable to agriculture.

Among the Greeks and Romans it was looked upon with disfavour because it rose with the sun during the torrid heat of summer and to its influence was attributed all the evils of that season.

The unhealthy summer period in Italy, from early in July until well into August, received its name of the "Dog Days" from the supposed evil influence of the Dog Star, and even down to the present time this name for the torrid days of midsummer has persisted.

TELEPHONE FACTS

The Southern California Telephone Company has over 191,000 customers, 285,000 telephones and more than 6,600 employees with an annual payroll in excess of $10,000,000, and an actual investment of $77,000,000. Because it is one of the city's most important industries, and because it is a vital factor in the development of Los Angeles, we deem it proper to submit the following facts:

Ten Years Litigation

After ten years of practically continuous litigation throughout which the company has operated at a loss, the Commission, on December 31, 1924, made its order, No. 14420, which for the first time established any sort of permanent adjustment of the business providing for its normal development.

Drastic Revenue Reduction

In arriving at its conclusion, the Commission reduced the Company's fair value by $8,000,000, cut its expenses by over $2,500,000 per year, and reduced its revenue request by $2,000,000 per year. The recent order makes a still further revenue reduction which will amount to more than $300,000 annually.

The Situation Today

The order of December 31, 1924, raised the rates for residence telephones and effected a fundamental reform in business telephones in that it definitely applied the principle that heavy business users of telephone service should pay proportionately therefor. The application of this order was made optional, however, until January 1, 1926, on which date measured service was to have become effective as to all business telephones.

Responsive to requirements of that order, large investments and heavy expenditures were made for the sole purpose of carrying it into effect.

On December 29, 1925, two days before it was to go into operation, the Commission suspended its effective date, and on January 12, 1926, made a further order, by which a reduction was made in the measured rate for business telephones, and the effective date of measured service was again deferred until March 21, 1926.

Earnings?

The Company's actual experience for 1925 showed a return of only 3.7% on its actual investment of $77,000,000. The fair value of its property, ascertained in the manner prescribed by law, is not less than $79,000,000; based upon such fair value, it experienced a return of only 3.6%. Even from the standpoint of the rate base of $72,000,000 fixed by the California Railroad Commission, its return was only 3.9%.

It will be recalled that by the order of December 31, 1924, the effective date thereof was delayed until February, 1925. This delay entailed a heavy loss to the Telephone Company. Even had the order of December 31, 1924, providing for optional business service, gone into full effect for the entire year 1925, the returns would have been only 3.9% on the fair value of the Company's property, and only 4.3% on the Railroad Commission's rate base.

Had full measured business rates, as contemplated in that order, been effective for the entire year 1925, the returns would have been only 4.3% and 4.7% respectively.

Huge Deficit

In 1924 the Company suffered a net loss of $764,552. It has never been able to pay a dividend, and is today carrying a deficit of over $7,500,000.

Accounting

These conclusions are based upon actual accounting on which the Company's business must be operated. These accounts are rigidly fixed, not only by the California Railroad Commission, but by the equally rigid requirements of the Interstate Commerce Commission, to which it is by law required to conform.

Expressing the matter in another way: Considering the matter solely from the viewpoint of the Commission's rate base, it would have required for the year 1925, over and above the amount which would have been produced by the previous order, additional revenue in the sum of $2,364,000 to have earned 8%, or $1,637,000, additional revenue to have earned 7%. The last order of the Commission, which reduces the rate for measured service, further reduces our revenue by more than $300,000 per year.

$69,500,000 for Expansion

Notwithstanding it has been continuously operating at a loss during the past several years, the Company has kept pace with the phenomenal growth of the city and has extended its Los Angeles system accordingly. In the years of greatest development, that is, from January 1, 1922, to December 31, 1925, 118,622 telephones were added and we are now serving 285,000 telephones. During the same period we installed 20 new central offices, erected 12 new buildings, made additions to many existing buildings, and installed approximately 1,000,000 miles of new wire. Our gross construction program during those years aggregated over $69,500,000.

Now Meeting All Service Demands

Our service is excellent; we have caught up with the demands for telephone service and we are now in a position to meet promptly all requirements.

Measured Service for Business Telephones

The use of telephone service by business customers varies between wide limits. Residence telephone usage is obviously more limited, and not subject to such wide variations. Business usage per customer varies from a few calls to more than 2500 calls per month, while residence users normally do not exceed an average of 100 calls per month. These facts doubtless contributed to the Commission's decision to place business telephones on a measured basis.

That the reduction of revenue which the company will suffer by the Commission's recent order favors the large business user is at once apparent.

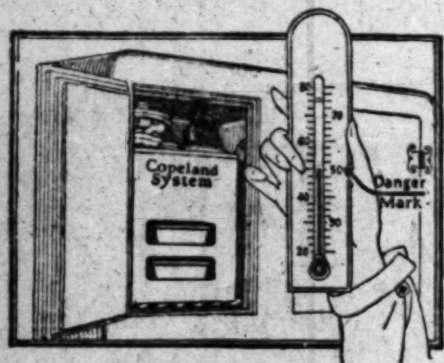

Business users, numbering, in round figures, 41,000 comprise 21.4% of the total number of Los Angeles customers; residence users, numbering 150,000, comprise 78.6% of the total customers. Based on their usage under flat rates, approximately 55% of the business users will pay less than they did under flat rates; on the same basis, the remaining 45% of business users will be required to pay more for telephone service under measured rates than under flat rates because of the extent of their telephone use. These large users, whose expense for telephone service will be thus increased, comprise, however, only 8% of the total customers served by the Company, and they will be the principal beneficiaries of the last order of the Commission.

The Telephone Company is required to perform its public service, and desires to do so in a satisfactory manner; and in the accomplishment of this we desire the co-operation and understanding of our customers. We ask for no more than is fair, and feel that our customers have no desire to accord us less.

50 Degrees Fahrenheit The Danger Mark in Food Preservation

EXPERIMENTS conducted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture developed the startling fact that a temperature of less than 50° Fahrenheit is essential for the preservation of perishable foodstuffs.

Fifty degrees Fahrenheit is the danger mark in refrigeration! Above that temperature deterioration starts and bacteria germinate rapidly.

The control of the Copeland System of Electric Refrigeration automatically maintains a temperature of less than 50°. This safe temperature is always at least 10° to 12° colder than that of ice. Yet the cost of operation is less than the cost of ice.

The Copeland Bond, issued with every installation, guarantees replacement of defective parts, necessary service for one year and eliminates all doubt of satisfactory performance.

The Copeland System can be conveniently and quickly installed in your present ice box.

Throat Sore? Rub on MUSTEROLE

Don't neglect that sore throat. It may lead to serious consequences. Draw out the congestion—break up the cold—with Musterole.
Just take a little Musterole on your finger tips and rub it in. It penetrates with a gentle tingle and goes right through to the seat of trouble. It draws out inflammation, away goes the sore throat.
Use clean white Musterole instead of the old-fashioned mustard plaster with its burn and blister. Musterole does what the mustard plaster did without the messiness and discomfort. It is unusually fine in bringing relief from colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia and influenza), bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, etc.

BORDER DESIRES NEW GATEWAYS

Bridging of Rio Grande at Various Points Asked

Espee Extension Into Mexico Application Pending

Two International Crossings Sought by Texas

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

LAREDO (Tex.), Jan. 31.—Construction of several new bridges and the establishment of two new international railway gateways on the Rio Grande are in prospect for the present year. R. B. Creager of Brownsville and associates have plans in hand for the construction of a new vehicle and foot passenger bridge to connect that lower border town with Matamoros, Mex. Mr. Creager, who is chairman of the Republican State Executive Committee, has obtained the necessary concession from the Mexican government for the proposed bridge and it is expected that the Congress of the United States will concur in this authority.

One of the proposed new bridge crossings of the Rio Grande is at Hidalgo, about eighty miles above Brownsville, where there has long been a port of entry. The Valley Bridge Company will construct a bridge at that point.

The Southern Pacific now has pending before the Interstate Commerce Commission an application to extend its San Antonio and Aransas Pass lines from Fairbury south to Hidalgo, 105 miles. It proposes also to build a bridge at Hidalgo and cross the river to Reynosa, where it will intersect the Matamoros-Monterrey division of the National Railways of Mexico. Both Hidalgo and Reynosa are towns that were established in the early border days. They have lost none of their original picturesque quality.

The site of the other proposed international gateway is at a point five miles below Presidio, in the far-removed upper border section of the Rio Grande where the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient plans to build a bridge. During the last few months construction of an extension of the Chihuahua division of the Orient north to the site of the proposed bridge has been in progress. Only about fifty miles remain to be built. It is stated. Engineers are surveying the route for the extension of the Orient from Alpine, Tex., south to a connection with the Chihuahua division at the crossing of the Rio Grande, seventy-five miles.

Plans also are under consideration for the construction of new high-water bridges at Del Rio, Eagle Pass and El Paso, and it is thought that these projects will be accomplished during the present year. The fact that the Rio Grande is subjected to periodical floods and time after time has swept away insecure bridges that spanned its raging waters, makes it necessary to construct one of the strongest possible type, both as to design and materials used, in order to insure their permanency.

Bridge connection with Mexico now is had at El Paso, Del Rio, Eagle Pass, Laredo and Brownsville.

Odd Fellows' Home Inmate Hero of Blaze

OIL MEN IN DISAGREEMENT

Mexico Managers of American Companies Said to Disapprove Injunction Proceedings

BY JACK STARR-HUNT

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 31.—Newspapers here announce serious disagreements have arisen between certain New York offices of leading oil companies and their local representatives over the recent injunction suits filed by the companies against the new oil law. Local managers are quoted as feeling that in the dictation of injunction proceedings the New York offices acted inadvisably and prematurely, and at a time when the Mexican government through Secretary Morones of the Department of Industry was trying to enlist the co-operation of the companies in efforts to make the laws of the regulatory decree still to be published mutually acceptable to all concerned.

The newspapers say that some local managers believe that the influence of certain New York oil men to whom the Mexican question is a matter of personal grudge are responsible for putting the companies into an awkward position. The difference, one newspaper reports, exists between the offices and representatives of all the leading companies except one.

After the first meeting a fortnight ago between Morones and representatives of the companies, a committee of five oil men was appointed to co-operate with the government in the matter of the regulatory decree. This committee was composed of leading oil men here, one Mexican, one Briton, one Hollander and two Americans. It is the committee dealing with the government, which is now reported embarrassed by the injunction orders instructed by the head offices.

Revalidation of titles is one question on which the committee and Morones are reported deadlocked. Morones repeatedly affirming that the government will not yield this point. Ambassador Sheffield is reported as favoring any plan which will take the petroleum question out of diplomatic negotiations. It is not, however, likely that the question can now be "oilied aside," especially as the State Department holds an even greater difference of opinion with Mexico over the new oil laws than over the anti-foreign land law.

Reports of further curtailment of operations in the Tampico fields, which were prevalent during the week, are now denied.

Club for Women Instructors to Offer Cigarettes

(BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE)

BERKELEY, Jan. 31.—The clubhouse of the woman's faculty at the University of California has decided to permit smoking and to offer cigarettes for sale.

Irresistible demand is the explanation of the move, Miss Marian Kanes, manager of the clubhouse, said.

"It was the only thing we could do," she declared. "Members of the club are mature women and certainly know whether they want to smoke. Smoking may be injurious to health, but it is not a crime. We should not be sanctioned in Stephens Union. No students live at the faculty club. Those who do occasionally hitchhike in the clubhouse come only as guests of members."

Not a cannery in the Province will be idle this year as the packers have found no difficulty in the past two years in selling their entire packs, despite the fact that 1924 was the greatest pack in history with 1925 next.

Outside of pink salmon, the Fraser River is producing very fine white and silver salmon. The districts and rivers are giving the canners good returns of sockeye and other varieties.

MADMAN IN TAXI TAKES WILD RIDE

Driver Forced to Pilot Cab Furiously Through Chicago For Hours

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—For hours tonight a taxicab careened crazily about Chicago streets, a panic-stricken chauffeur at the wheel, every moment expecting a bullet through his back from the revolver of his passenger, a madman, who had previously sought his way to freedom from a Berwyn hospital.

Crouched into a corner of the cab was the chauffeur's 9-year-old son, also held prisoner by the maniac. Meanwhile scores of heavily armed police from the Chicago detective bureau and county highway stations searched for the cab in apprehension lest the lunatic should commit murder before being captured.

Five hours after the search began the madman, E. H. Sackett, confessed to having recently been paroled from the insane asylum, telephoned his wife at the home of her sister, Mrs. G. A. Raymond.

"I'm a railroad station and am leaving Chicago at once," he told her, and broke the connection.

Shortly afterward, Policeman Coen, stationed at Union Depot, discovered Sackett seated disconsolately on a bench nursing his wounded hand. He submitted quietly to arrest. He said he threw his revolver away after leaving the depot.

Sackett, who is 50 years of age, and a former Kansas City mining engineer, made his sudden dash to freedom while undergoing a sanity test in the office of Dr. Albert Hall, head of the Berwyn Medical Unit Hospital.

INSOLVENT RAILWAY HELD TO OBLIGATION

TEXAS COURT IN JUDGMENT AFFIRMS OIL COMPANY'S ACCOUNT

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

AUSTIN (Tex.), Jan. 31.—Unsecured claims against a railroad which passes into receivership must be paid, according to a decision of the Appellate Court at Austin in a case involving a contract which the Texas Company had with the International-Great Northern Railroad for the sale and delivery of a minimum of 1,350,000 barrels and a maximum of 1,650,000 barrels of fuel oil at 95 cents a barrel. The Texas Company was given judgment for approximately $400,000 damages by the Lower Court, which judgment was affirmed by the Appellate Court.

When the railroad went into receivership and after 160,000 barrels of oil had been delivered, the receiver refused to carry out the contract. The Texas Company intervened in the receivership, and the court allowed the $224,497 which was not paid. It then obtained permission of the Federal Court to sue the receiver and obtained judgment with interest at 6 per cent from August 10, 1914. That brought the whole amount to $315,544 on July 1, 1924, and the 6 per cent has been running since and will continue to accumulate until the judgment is paid, if the company wins finally.

The court holds that damages are recoverable for breach of contract, but only for the value of the engines as being a subsisting liability for current expenses of operation of the railroad.

Detroit Private Detective and Girl Shot to Death in Field

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

DETROIT, Jan. 31.—Police found the bullet-riddled body of Jay Daubenspeck, 30 years of age, a lieutenant of private detectives, in a field near the city limits this morning and, searching further, came upon the slain body of a girl, 26 years of age. It is believed the double killing occurred shortly after midnight.

The girl may be Helma Malak, address unknown, according to a man who informed police by telephone that the Malak girl disappeared at 11 p. m. Saturday.

Daubenspeck had been shot eight times with two kinds of bullets. Later, members of the homicide squad found the girl's body in a ditch 300 feet from the car. She had been wounded four times, twice in the back. The other two bullets had been fired into her breast at such close range that there were powder marks on her clothing.

BUYERS GATHER FOR NEW YORK TOY FAIR

STYLES IN PLAYTHINGS FOR NEXT CHRISTMAS SET BY EXHIBIT

(BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE)

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—The playthings which Santa Claus will leave on his visit next Christmas will be decided upon at the annual toy fair of the United States, opening here tomorrow.

Mr. Krinkle, with hundreds of buyers from this and other countries, has to select the favorite toys early in the year so that the manufacturers may know what to make.

"In the selection of toys local color plays an important role," said H. D. Clark, secretary of the Toy Fair Chamber of Commerce. "Although many of them enjoy general popularity the country over, the play spirit of some sections finds an outlet very different from that in other parts."

"For example, the toy buyers from Boston, New York, Philadelphia and other large cities of the East stock up heavily on fire engines, automobiles and similar apparatus. Playing buyers from Omaha and other points in the West make big purchases of horses and wagons, stuffed animals and the like. Even in dolls one finds variations in popularity. Bohemian dolls find special favor in Chicago. In the Far West, however, the play spirit of some sections finds an outlet very different from that in other parts."

The fair will last until March 6, next.

Port Wave Research Sheds Light on Theory

"Ceiling" of Impulses Found in Experiments

BY FREDERICK J. HASKIN

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—With growing popularity of the radio, the question as to just how progress has been made in its development during the past year, is being asked by the public. Lieutenant-Commander T. A. Mendenhall, U.S.N., states that the Navy department rates as the three outstanding features in radio development during 1925, first, the fourth international radio conference called by Secretary Hoover; second, short-wave communication; and, third, new theory on wave propagation.

While all of these developments have been coming along gradually for years, in 1925 they became such importance as to merit unusual consideration. It is impossible at this time to estimate their effect upon the radio industry, but generally felt through a gradual and logical reduction in the price of radio sets and in the number and more general use of the radio in business.

The fourth national radio conference made but minor changes in 1924 recommendations as to the location of wave lengths or frequencies. This fact is taken as an indication that the radio industry has made great steps toward unification and standardization.

INDUSTRY STABILIZED

The stabilization in wave-length location makes it possible to standardize receivers. It is said that already several of the large manufacturers of radio apparatus are getting together with a view to ending this. This will surely meet with the hearty approval of the general public, since it will mean super radio receiving sets. It

RADIO PROGRESS OF YEAR GREAT
Stabilization of Industry Outstanding Short Wave Research Sheds Light on Theory
"Ceiling" of Impulses Found in Experiments
BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN
WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—With the growing popularity of the radio, progress has been made in its development during the past year. Lieutenant-Commander T. A. M. Graves, U.S.N., states that the Navy department rates as the three outstanding features in radio development during 1925, first, the fourth annual radio conference called by Secretary Hoover; second, short-wave communication; and, third, new theory on wave propagation. While all of these developments have been coming along gradually in the past year, in 1925 they became of such importance as to merit universal consideration. It is impossible at this time to estimate their effect upon the radio industry, but the economic structure of the country. However, it is safe to say that this effect will be very generally felt through a gradual and logical reduction in the price of radio sets and in the cheaper and more general use of radio in business. The fourth national radio conference made but minor changes in 1924 recommendations as to the location of wave lengths or frequencies. This fact is taken as an indication that the radio industry has made great steps toward stabilization and standardization.

INDUSTRY STABILIZED
The stabilization in wave-length location makes it possible to manufacture receivers. It is said that already several of the large manufacturers of radio apparatus are getting together with a view to the end. This will surely meet with the hearty approval of the general public, since it will mean cheaper radio receiving sets. It also indicates that the radio industry has come to stay and thus means steady employment for many.

The progress in short-wave communication during 1925 is of great importance and makes for economy in this industry. For years to why amateurs have been experimenting with these waves, and short waves were used by the military and naval forces in the World War. The introduction of vacuum tubes materially aided the progress in this form of communication. Not until 1925, however, had it been generally realized throughout the world that short waves or high radio frequencies have wonderful commercial possibilities.

Commander Graves says that the third outstanding development is more a scientific contribution than a concrete invention or design of apparatus. Commander A. Hoyt Taylor, U.S.N.R., and Dr. E. O. Hulbert, physicist of the United States Naval Research Laboratory, Bellevue, D. C., have been making studies of the application of short waves for naval use. During their research work they noted certain phenomena from which they evolved a theory as to why short waves carry so far with such small power.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY
In co-operation with the national research council they measured the height of the so-called "heavily-laid" layer above the earth's surface and found it to be more than 150 miles. This confirmed the belief that waves are refracted from this layer and that the "sky component" of a wave is not lost in space but comes down to earth and performs useful service.

While this new theory will mean much to scientists it will not have any direct effect on the man in the street, and he will therefore perhaps not be particularly interested. It is said, however, that this theory will put an end to the hope of communication with Mars.

And one does not need to be a scientist to be interested in that. Radio communication has one great advantage over the telephone or telegraph. Its use will save the public millions of dollars which are now lost every time a storm tears down the wires. In isolated sections of the country, radio communication to such places would greatly speed up the repairs and shorten the shut-downs of power supply to factories.

WOMAN LIVING IN TUMBLE-DOWN SHACK LEAVES REALTY WORTH $50,000
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—The mystery surrounding the life and death of Mrs. Mary Criley Sterling French, aged recluse of Parkside, who died January 6, last, was dispelled today. The woman, who lived for years in a tumble-down shack and was thought to be extremely poor, left an estate of nearly $50,000 to her daughter, a man, and a neighbor. Today Albert E. Lake, an attorney who represented Mrs. French, told her story.

In 1855, he said, Mary Criley, Mary French and Georgetown French, all of Watertown, Mass., came here and opened a fashionable dressmaking establishment. Later they purchased the property in Parkside and made will in each other's favor. Afterward they retired, and Georgetown died, leaving her share of their earnings to her cousin, Mary French. Mary Criley then was married to a man named Sterling, who deserted her. Later, Mary French, fearing that after her death her relatives might contest her will, adopted Mary Criley as her daughter. When she died, Mary Criley Sterling-French came into the property of the three women. For years she lived in the Parkside house, which was boarded up, and gained a reputation for extreme eccentricity. Mrs. Dahlman was her only friend.

OIL ROYALTIES MAY BUY TOLL BRIDGES
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
WATRUKA (Okla.) Jan. 31.—Automobile clubs of Southern Oklahoma are to make an effort to persuade the United States government and the State of Oklahoma to buy the several toll bridges across Red River between Oklahoma and Texas and operate them free. Their plan is that the Federal government would use for that purpose part of the money impounded from oil royalties obtained in the river-bed pool just opposite the Burkhardt field. The Oklahoma Legislature would be expected to appropriate the money required by the State in the purchase, since it has been held that riparian land owners along the river have title to all property to the middle of the stream. The Federal government owns the south half of the stream to the south bank, which is the boundary line between Oklahoma and Texas.

NEW YORK OFFICER CONQUERS RUNAWAY
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—With a traffic policeman mounted on its back vainly struggling with a broken bit to halt him, a runaway horse injured the policeman, the driver and two pedestrians in a dash along crowded Delancey street. The horse, suddenly bolting, had hurled the driver backward into the street, then dashed along Delancey street. Patrolman Black was standing at Suffolk and Delancey streets where the horse slipped and fell to its knees, and in a flash Black was on the animal's back. The horse reared its feet and started again. Black saw half a dozen automobiles ahead forming a "V." He managed to steer the horse into the "V," and the runaway ended with the horse's head inside a sedan window.

TIE ON RAILS PERILS TRAIN
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
KELSO (Wash.) Jan. 31.—Hundreds of passengers on a Northern Pacific Railroad train which passed through Kelso today were endangered by a maniac or desperado who placed a tie and several large rocks on the track at the Lewis Place, six miles north of Castle Rock and one mile south of the Oloqua Bridge. The obstruction was on the track in a rock cut and on a curve, so that Engineer John Smythe could not see it, and the train crashed into it, but the locomotive stayed on the rails as did all the coaches.

Two men were arrested for investigation. One carried an L.W.W. card. He gave his name as Albert Nelson, River Falls, Wis., and the other man gave his name as C. V. Boyles of Aberdeen, Wash.

PLANS FOR HUGE AIR FUND SHOWN
Guggenheim Will Finance Aero Colleges
Scientific Research, Also to Be Developed
West Coast Mentioned For Great School
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Tentative plans for administering the $2,500,000 fund established by Daniel Guggenheim for the promotion of aeronautics were outlined today by H. F. Guggenheim, president of the fund, who suggested that the money be used to finance educational activities, scientific research and the commercial development of aviation.

In addition to the aeronautical courses now being supported in eastern universities, the preliminary report suggested the establishment of a school of aeronautics in one of the established engineering colleges on the West Coast, inasmuch as aeronautical instruction is available west of Michigan.

"In considering such projects," said the report, "one must not overlook the fact that at least one year must elapse before a chair could be established, another year before students could be graduated and another, say, two years at least before these graduates will have found themselves so that in considering our market for aeronautical engineers we must look seven years ahead."

Other educational activities under consideration include encouragement of general aviation education to secure a well-rounded mechanical engineering at various universities, donation of special equipment for aeronautical education and research, and slow aviation fellowships and arrangements for giving instruction in the practical mechanics of aircraft in trade schools.

It was said that the fund might consider an annual grant over a period of years for aerodynamic research to establish aeronautics laboratories.

In encouraging the development of commercial aviation, trustees of the fund have mapped out tentative plans to award prizes for devices or designs of importance to commercial aircraft, such as an ideal commercial plane or one which would be stable, under all aerodynamic conditions. Improved engine designs and auxiliary equipment for air transport. Other inventions and devices of their commercial value, also would be solicited. This program likewise would involve the promotion of air routes and ports.

KELLOGG BACKS EMBASSY BILL
Feels Country Should Own Legation Buildings
Policy in Harmony With Coolidge Program
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Secretary Kellogg is convinced the time has come for this country to establish a policy of owning its own embassy, legation and consulate buildings in foreign countries.

Initial costs, he feels, will be compensated for within a brief time by rental economies and elimination of delays resulting from the use of scattered buildings by various branches of the Diplomatic Corps in many large capitals.

The secretary in a letter to Chairman Porter of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, made clear he had given the question much consideration and that the program, which has been proposed in a bill introduced by Mr. Porter, was in harmony with the financial program of President Coolidge.

PHANTOM BURGLAR COMES BACK TO LIFE
SANTA BARBARA REPORTS WORK OF FROWLIER IN HOMES OF WEALTHY
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 31.—The phantom burglar who three years ago terrorized residents from Pasadena to Monrovia, has returned to Santa Barbara and Montecito where he conducted a series of nocturnal raids over a period of several weeks, according to Police Chief Lester Desgrand.

Police express the opinion that the phantom is an exconvict who was released from prison in 1922. He is believed to be a series of tentacles from Santa Barbara two years ago in connection with thefts but not on a charge of burglary.

Following this man's arrest, the burglaries stopped, but immediately after his release they again started.

Among the homes burglarized in the same manner employed by the phantom three years ago are those of W. E. Hodges, vice-president of the Santa Fe Railroad, where a few dollars were taken and the maid threatened; Earle Graham, brother of the former Geraldine Graham, one-time favorite of the Prince of Wales, where a watch, war medals and trophies were taken, and J. F. Katenkamp, Montecito, where several dollars and provisions were taken.

The homes of Maj. W. J. McKittrick, Mrs. Converse Strong, and Mrs. Lawrence J. Hodges in Montecito, also were entered, but nothing valuable was taken.

Tennessee Officers Investigate Finding Woman's Body
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
DECATUR (Tenn.) Jan. 31.—Officers today attempted to unravel the mystery surrounding the finding of the dismembered body of an unidentified woman here yesterday. The torso was wrapped in burlap, was found near a barn on the farm of John Isom. Other parts of the body were found near by. Identification was impossible. No one has been reported missing from the vicinity and police believe the body was brought here from a distance.

A coroner's jury yesterday failed to find any clues. The woman's hair had been bobbed and her teeth indicated she was between 21 and 30 years of age.

COTTON NOT EXHIBITING MUCH LIFE
Market Activities Confined To Narrow Range of Prices With Little Speculation
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—The market continues to back and fill within a comparatively narrow range of prices and only a moderate amount of speculative activity at times. This is mainly due to the majority in the trade awaiting developments that will show a broadening of business in the drygoods markets, and also some idea as to whether the market is showing a cutting the acreage for the new crop will be realized.

Meanwhile, the relative cheapness of the staple is being remarked and as prices are about the lowest for the last four years, the market is showing a tendency to the effect of the season's bumper crop of nearly 16,000,000 bales without linters has been sufficiently discounted to prevent an important further decline. This accounts for the continued steadiness of the market around the current level.

On the other hand, incentives are lacking for any sustained bullish activity in the market either to carry forward or maintain recent rallies. Therefore, until something new develops that will broaden out the demand for the balance of the crop or attract a larger amount of speculative or investment buying, the market is not likely to show importance to prices is expected from the current level.

Meanwhile, the rapidity with which the season's crop has been marketed from plantations and the large number of uncottoned bales now in the market, against 13,270,000 bales of the crop having been brought into sight in the first six months of the present cotton statistical year from August 1, 1925, to date. This compares with 11,800,000 bales in last season's crop, which turned out over 12,340,000 bales, against 8,000,000 the same time last year, with this six months' period showing total exports of 8,213,000 bales, against 5,375,000 last year. The rapidity with which the cotton has passed out of sight from this record-breaking movement is shown by the fact the present world's visible supply of American cotton now stands at 5,526,000 bales, against 4,784,000 a year ago. The decrease in the world's visible supply of all kinds of cotton this week is 600,000 bales, against 64,000 last week and 114,000 last year.

Trading conditions have been showing some improvement in the past week at Manchester and in other European milling sections, with a broadening demand for both hotel and yarn cotton in the latter cables. Here reports from the leading drygoods centers, while not showing any marked expansion thus far that had recently been looked for. However, the general tone is more cheerful and it will be noted the American mill consumption continues to run on the basis of over 550,000 bales

Any new demand, regardless of size, can be connected up immediately.

But, perhaps the most important thing about Bureau electricity is its low cost. Offering reliable power at lower rates than any other competitive city in the United States, the Bureau not only stabilizes industry, but invites new commercial organizations to locate here.

Moreover, the Bureau operates through its own profits and requires absolutely no support from tax payers.

PHANTOM BURGLAR COMES BACK TO LIFE
SANTA BARBARA REPORTS WORK OF FROWLIER IN HOMES OF WEALTHY
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 31.—The phantom burglar who three years ago terrorized residents from Pasadena to Monrovia, has returned to Santa Barbara and Montecito where he conducted a series of nocturnal raids over a period of several weeks, according to Police Chief Lester Desgrand.

Police express the opinion that the phantom is an exconvict who was released from prison in 1922. He is believed to be a series of tentacles from Santa Barbara two years ago in connection with thefts but not on a charge of burglary.

Following this man's arrest, the burglaries stopped, but immediately after his release they again started.

Among the homes burglarized in the same manner employed by the phantom three years ago are those of W. E. Hodges, vice-president of the Santa Fe Railroad, where a few dollars were taken and the maid threatened; Earle Graham, brother of the former Geraldine Graham, one-time favorite of the Prince of Wales, where a watch, war medals and trophies were taken, and J. F. Katenkamp, Montecito, where several dollars and provisions were taken.

The homes of Maj. W. J. McKittrick, Mrs. Converse Strong, and Mrs. Lawrence J. Hodges in Montecito, also were entered, but nothing valuable was taken.

FACE DEATH MYSTERY
Tennessee Officers Investigate Finding Woman's Body
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
DECATUR (Tenn.) Jan. 31.—Officers today attempted to unravel the mystery surrounding the finding of the dismembered body of an unidentified woman here yesterday. The torso was wrapped in burlap, was found near a barn on the farm of John Isom. Other parts of the body were found near by. Identification was impossible. No one has been reported missing from the vicinity and police believe the body was brought here from a distance.

A coroner's jury yesterday failed to find any clues. The woman's hair had been bobbed and her teeth indicated she was between 21 and 30 years of age.

Market Activities Confined To Narrow Range of Prices With Little Speculation
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—The market continues to back and fill within a comparatively narrow range of prices and only a moderate amount of speculative activity at times. This is mainly due to the majority in the trade awaiting developments that will show a broadening of business in the drygoods markets, and also some idea as to whether the market is showing a cutting the acreage for the new crop will be realized.

Meanwhile, the relative cheapness of the staple is being remarked and as prices are about the lowest for the last four years, the market is showing a tendency to the effect of the season's bumper crop of nearly 16,000,000 bales without linters has been sufficiently discounted to prevent an important further decline. This accounts for the continued steadiness of the market around the current level.

On the other hand, incentives are lacking for any sustained bullish activity in the market either to carry forward or maintain recent rallies. Therefore, until something new develops that will broaden out the demand for the balance of the crop or attract a larger amount of speculative or investment buying, the market is not likely to show importance to prices is expected from the current level.

Meanwhile, the rapidity with which the season's crop has been marketed from plantations and the large number of uncottoned bales now in the market, against 13,270,000 bales of the crop having been brought into sight in the first six months of the present cotton statistical year from August 1, 1925, to date. This compares with 11,800,000 bales in last season's crop, which turned out over 12,340,000 bales, against 8,000,000 the same time last year, with this six months' period showing total exports of 8,213,000 bales, against 5,375,000 last year. The rapidity with which the cotton has passed out of sight from this record-breaking movement is shown by the fact the present world's visible supply of American cotton now stands at 5,526,000 bales, against 4,784,000 a year ago. The decrease in the world's visible supply of all kinds of cotton this week is 600,000 bales, against 64,000 last week and 114,000 last year.

Trading conditions have been showing some improvement in the past week at Manchester and in other European milling sections, with a broadening demand for both hotel and yarn cotton in the latter cables. Here reports from the leading drygoods centers, while not showing any marked expansion thus far that had recently been looked for. However, the general tone is more cheerful and it will be noted the American mill consumption continues to run on the basis of over 550,000 bales

He Was a Leading Merchant—
....and he worked eighteen hours a day!
HOW different modern commerce is in Los Angeles. The commercial or merchant executive sits in his electrically lighted and heated office and merely gives directions, for he knows that with reliable Bureau power the many tasks in the conduct of his business will be surely and effectively carried out. The modern office is electrical!

The Bureau of Power and Light is definitely adding materially to the commercial prosperity of Los Angeles. Through many extensions and betterments of Bureau Service, downtown Los Angeles is served with an unlimited amount of cheap, reliable power. Any new demand, regardless of size, can be connected up immediately.

But, perhaps the most important thing about Bureau electricity is its low cost. Offering reliable power at lower rates than any other competitive city in the United States, the Bureau not only stabilizes industry, but invites new commercial organizations to locate here.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 12.—Question: Please analyze the specimen for gold or other metals. Found in high mountains near Eagle Creek. The specimen is a piece of the ore and by following the gopher hole, at a depth of about ten feet a ten foot ledge was found. The ledge is a fine sandstone. We are down on the ledge as far as we desire to go. We will begin work July 1, if the ore warrants it.

Answer: But little faith can be placed in mining operations by the output of gophers and cockroaches. It is a fact that many blind lizards are found in Oregon and Nevada. It is not known whether they are blind or not. The sample contains a trace of iron, a low percentage of quartz, iron oxides, a low percentage of barite, altered pyrite, traces of pyrite, mica, garnet and a trace of native iron.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 12.—Q: Please analyze the sample for oil. Found in Santa Barbara county.

A: "The oil of Southern California" is a process of refining shale. The sample is not a true shale, and it is partly of asphaltum. The day is not far distant when the future supply from well oil will be a product of the past. The great deposits of known oil shales in Oregon, California, Nevada, Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio, Colorado and Utah, indicate an available supply of shale oil that could be used for industrial purposes.

Admiral H. J. Jones, U.S.N., is quoted as follows: "There are too many who comfort themselves with the thought that there is an adequate ground reserve of petroleum in the United States to take care of our needs as far into the future as we need to look, but this has no evidence of being based on anything more than a mere guess, and that guess is contrary to all scientific investigation."

Tetrahedrite, SAN BERNARDINO, Jan. 12.—Q: Please inform us if this rock contains any minerals. It comes from ten miles northwest of Big Bear Valley. We have taken The Times for years and still take it.

A: The samples of lustrous, microscopical sulphides are of iron, zinc and copper. With a little boron, copper-iron sulphate, chalcophyllite, and quartz, all more or less present.

One other specimen seems to be hornblende schist, containing traces of the above named minerals. A little magnetite, iron oxides, pyrite, and values might be obtained by fire assays for gold and silver, but the ore is on the order of low-grade tetrahedrite (schist).

Mari, SAN DIEGO, Jan. 14.—Q: I am sending three samples for classification and would like to know if they represent any commercial values. Thanking you for past favors.

A: Samples Nos. 1 and 2 are Mari (lime carbonate), probably of value as a fertilizer. No. 3 contains lime carbonate, magnesia present; hydrous magnesia, silicate found and clay (aluminum silicate).

For Samples, CORONA, Jan. 15.—Q: Please state what the samples consist of.

A: Sample No. 1 is a mixture of hematite, aluminum silicate, and lime carbonate. No. 2 is a mixture of hematite, aluminum silicate, and lime carbonate. No. 3 is a mixture of hematite, aluminum silicate, and lime carbonate.

Free Gold Assent, ETHANAC, Jan. 15.—Q: I am sending you two samples of ore found forty miles northwest of Riverside. Sample No. 1 is a lead matrix, and No. 2 is from the same. Will you please tell me if it contains copper and gold? There is a large ledge of it.

A: The two samples are practically of the same variety. They are copper, and brown zinc ore is sparingly present. The matrix carries but little porphyry matter, and it is chiefly of iron-magnesium silicates.

Diatomaceous Earth, HEADLEY, Jan. 16.—Q: I shall esteem it a favor if you will tell me the percentage of diatomaceous earth and what are the prospects of finding a market for the product.—R.

A: The sample is not chalk (lime carbonate). It is a fine grade of diatomaceous earth known to other people as tripoli or tripoli. In its pure state this earth is a variety of opal (colloidal silica) and water.

A belt of igneous earth runs along the eastern foothills of the Santa Lucia Range, which work has been done, and carload lots shipped to San Francisco.

It is a fact that this earth has commercial value if transportation charges to San Francisco could be made lower, and while it is known the Monterey deposits are valuable, it is somewhat problematical where a market is open for the earth.

Five Samples, SANTA ANA, Jan. 16.—Q: I am anxious to know what the quartz rocks carry, and if they represent commercial values. Do they show signs of mining? The specimens are from Orange county, Cal.

A: Sample No. 1 is hornblende silicate. No. 2 is hornblende silicate. No. 3 is hornblende silicate. No. 4 is hornblende silicate. No. 5 is hornblende silicate.

Manganese and Epidote, CORONA, Jan. 18.—Q: Being a reader of The Times for a number of years I am taking the privilege of sending you two samples of rock from the Colorado River. Please classify them.

A: Sample No. 1 reacts for a little altered epidote; zinc present; little altered epidote. Sample No. 2 is high-grade manganese (chiefly botryoidal, or grape-like). It is a mixture of pisolite and pyrolusite with traces of limonite.

Young Wife: You know that whenever we have a quarrel I am the first one to make up.

Hut: That's all right; you need to after your weeping. —Boston Transcript.

A: Sample No. 1 is hornblende silicate. No. 2 is hornblende silicate. No. 3 is hornblende silicate.

A: Sample No. 1 is hornblende silicate. No. 2 is hornblende silicate. No. 3 is hornblende silicate.

A: Sample No. 1 is hornblende silicate. No. 2 is hornblende silicate. No. 3 is hornblende silicate.

"DEATH VALLEY" and "HER HIDDEN TREASURE" "THAT'S MY BABY NOW"

Some 5200 feet above sea level and peeping down into that great brown blazing desert of Death Valley there stands a Mountain, austere and lordly, which embraces the holdings of the "WESTERN LEAD MINES COMPANY," of which Corporation I am President, and owner of control.

Our property comprises some 14 claims, each claim being 600 feet by 1500 feet, and is just over the Nevada line in Inyo County, California, some twenty miles from Beatty, Nevada, and in the general district of Goldfield and Tonopah, where so many hundreds of millions of dollars from gold, silver and lead have been produced during the last ten years.

The "MINE" in question, which is known as "WESTERN LEAD," is absolutely a new discovery, and I don't suppose anything ever walked, crawled or crept over it but a lizard, a rabbit or a mountain goat, until it was picked up a very short while back by an old Prospector, or better known in that country as "A Desert Rat" by the name of "BEN CHAMBERS," from whom my Associates and I purchased the property for probably more real money than old "Ben" will ever know how to spend.

True enough it's out in a desolate spot, and some say "GOD" was tired when he made that part of the country, but I don't believe it, for after looking over several hundred miles of the territory, I am convinced that it holds more hidden treasure, yet undiscovered, than any spot its size on the face of the map, and Inyo County, California, embraces a great part of it.

At all events it is out there where "MEN ARE MEN," "WHERE LIFE IS REAL," and where you are not afraid to turn your head to spit for fear someone will stack the deck on you, and on top of all that, the "WESTERN LEAD" property looks for all the world to me like a "HUNDRED MILLION DOLLAR SILVER-LEAD MINE" and might be twice or three times that big.

I have had eight of the foremost Engineers and Geologists of America examine and make reports on "WESTERN LEAD" and will now quote from their reports.

Charles D. Wilkinson, Consulting Engineer of San Francisco, and associated with Goldfield Consolidated, says in part:

"This is one of the few propositions I have seen that I feel no hesitation in recommending for development on a large scale," and accompanies his report with eight different assays picked at random, which show values running from $34.18 to $80.88 a ton.

Henry M. Crowther, Consulting Engineer of Los Angeles, and a silver-lead expert, who was formerly associated with J. Parke Channing (one of the four mining Magnates of the world,) says in part, in his report on "WESTERN LEAD":

"The ores are very simple to mill, with a high recovery and I believe a 60 to 65 per cent lead concentrate can be made.

"The mineralized zone is extensive and of large size, and promises to respond generously to development. I endorse the property as having a wonderful showing and worthy of the campaign of development now under way."

J. W. Bandhauer, the man who opened up two of the largest Copper mines of the world over in Arizona, in his report on "WESTERN LEAD," says:

"The surface showing is indeed very large, and has the largest outcrop of primary lead ore that I have ever seen.

"The ore will produce a high grade concentrate containing 1200 to 1300 pounds of lead to the ton, besides silver enough to pay the mining cost of producing the mill ores.

"I congratulate you on your acquisition of control of 'WESTERN LEAD' and recommend it for the development you have planned."

Ira Judson Coe, Consulting Engineer of San Francisco, after making three different trips to the "WESTERN LEAD" property, goes on to say that, in his opinion, it is the largest Lead discovery in the United States during the past fifty years.

Dr. Bruce L. Clark, Ph.D., who is of the University of California at Berkeley, and the Cambridge University of London, England, and who is recognized the world over as one of the six leading authorities, after two trips to our property and on extensive examination, in his report, goes on to show why, when and how this vast deposit of "LEAD" came about. Reading from one paragraph of his report, he says:

"No one can estimate the quantity of ore in this block of limestone. The block is at least two thousand feet square and is over seven hundred feet high. Allowing the square area, but taking a thickness of height of only twenty-five feet, and consider only one-fifth of the rock as lead bearing, you would have a tonnage of nearly a million tons of milling ore.

The mining of the ore at "WESTERN LEAD" will be very simple, since all extraction will be by tunnels or open cuts, and all ore mined will go by gravity to the mill, and the ore readily lends itself to the well established milling practice.

There will be plenty of water for mining, milling and domestic purposes, and of a quality unsurpassed in any mining community.

The present road now being constructed by the "WESTERN LEAD COMPANY" will place the mine within an hour's drive of the railroad.

In conclusion I wish to state that the formation is right for lead ores.

The cause of the mineralization has been definitely established.

There is a large quantity of available ore exposed over a very wide area.

The ore is readily concentrated and large masses of shipping ore can easily be developed.

I have no hesitancy in recommending this property for extensive development, and the erection of a mill to concentrate the ores."

On top of the reports by the above Engineers, there have been many engineers, representing different mining interests, examine our property during the last ninety days and, in every instance, their reports have been startling as to the magnitude of our Mine.

Bear in mind that, to my knowledge, until ninety days ago, this property never had a pick in it, and the amount of development work done to the present minute is very limited.

After satisfying ourselves that we had an immense lead mine, the first thing we began was a highway from the railroad to the property, some twenty miles, which road should be completed one week from today, at an estimated cost to us of $37,000.

At this moment, we have some seventy-five men working in the district, have two five-by-seven-foot tunnels running and have been drifting on wonderful milling ore for the past three weeks.

We have laid out a townsite, erected a sixteen-room office building for our clerical and engineering staff, and at this writing there are in the neighborhood of three hundred people in camp, and the country is staked for many miles in every direction, with six or eight other Companies anticipating immediate operations of different properties they have acquired.

The moment our road is completed we will start in with machinery for a large mill, but how large I cannot say right today, as our Engineers are talking all the way from a five hundred to a five thousand ton plant.

Out of forty assays of ore from different parts of our property, the lowest values I got was $30.10 to a ton, and ran as high as $90 a ton. Our mining, milling, transportation to the railroad and freight to the smelter should not exceed $8 a ton.

Every condition surrounding the property could hardly be improved on if it was made to order.

One engineer that examined the property for me expressed himself to the effect that I would be dead and buried for fifty years and the "WESTERN LEAD MINE" would still be producing millions of dollars a year.

Of course you are aware that there is a great world shortage of lead and that the price is around ten cents a pound today, and slated to go to fourteen or fifteen cents a pound this year.

Personally, I know of three representatives of three European countries here now, trying to buy lead for future delivery.

I have given you about one-tenth of one per cent of the attractive features I have on hand, relating to "WESTERN LEAD," so from day to day I will feed you plenty of information.

Just as quickly as our new road is completed, I am going to run a few private trains to our Mine, inviting the world to come along as my guests, and if I don't show you more "SILVER-LEAD" than you ever clapped your eyes on, you may call me the original Chinese aviator.

"WESTERN LEAD" is listed on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, and was called for the first time Saturday morning. It opened at $1.50 and closed at $1.57 1/2 a share, with some fifty-five thousand shares changing hands. In my opinion it is due for one heck of a ride, and I am advising every friend I have in the world to step on her.

Where she will go to, I don't know, but I'll make a guess that you'll be buying her at five dollars, six dollars, seven dollars, and eight dollars a share and probably twice that price, and making plenty of Jack.

I am not offering "WESTERN LEAD" stock for sale through my office, consequently every share purchased will have to be bought through the Los Angeles Stock Exchange.

You may place your buying orders through your own Broker, or better still, come into my office at 634 South Spring Street, and allow me to execute your buying orders with no charge whatever to you for our services. All buying orders sent or given will be executed over the board at the lowest prevailing daily quotations.

My candid opinion on my "WESTERN LEAD MINE" is that she is the biggest thing out doors today, and my sincere advice to everyone, whether you have fifty dollars or twenty thousand to invest, is buy "WESTERN LEAD."

If you can run into my office and look over some of our ore samples and engineer's reports, I'll be here to meet you with the glad hand, and a world of data. If you can't get in, mail me your check for the amount you wish to shoot, with instructions to buy for your account, and then sit back and watch her soar.

The capitalization of the company is very small, there only being two million shares in all.

(BY A. F. NIGHT WRITER)
NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Public and stage producers have radio displacing the n-ar of the spoken drama, as acted by Cosmo Hamilton, the ish novelist, but they agree at established a definite place in entertainment world.

Hamilton recently condense

a novel into a radio play, and wards to a twelve-minute
which he broadcast as successful

hundreds of commendations
Then followed his prediction at the radio, with the assist-

of the film, eventually novel authors to adapt stories for people to hear broadcast stations and to see the screen.

SCOTT'S PREDICTION
"The possibility that the radio or novel will either displace or supplement the theater or the printed book is a question that has been discussed for years. The prevailing opinion that the time would supplant the legiti-mate, said A. F. Page, Cooper, author, Play & Co., New York.

"As long as the reader finds pleasure in the author's manner of expression, the medium of expression will rhythms and their imager-

of which can not be saved
in one or fifteen-minute oral over the radio, so long will it retain its popularity as a medium of expression.

"It is, of course, entirely possible that the radio may develop of its own, distinct form, and that stage production and that should have effect upon both the stage and book publishing."

He agreed with Miss Marble, secretary of the National Association of Book Publishers, that radio reviews of books

have been of interest in literature. In a comparison of the radio, she said that books have more enduring quality and that people like to have them in their hands.

"Ever since I have been in the business, somebody has been buying a radio, with the result that the number of legitimate theaters in New York has been falling. The last ten years," Gilbert M. M. M., manager of Charles Frohman, responded. "Before the end of this year at least six more will be gone."

"Whenever my taste in plays appears to coincide with a sufficiently large number of the public, our theaters will be full,
no matter how many splendid works in Hamilton contrives for the radio."

"In estimating the radio as a medium, people always forget the simple human need of a civilized man or woman to get out of his home occasionally. No one wants to have every evening and vegetable in the films, it should be obvious that the radio is not the best medium for the spoken drama, if they are complementary and, if anything, stimulating."

THREE SUICIDES MARK WEEK-END

Two Women and Man Take Own Lives

Another Will Live After Drug Attempt

Wife Throws Self Under Train Wheels

Three women and one man attempted to end their lives yesterday, all but one effort being successful. Two women took their own lives. One woman found death beneath the wheels of a Pacific Electric car. In Long Beach a girl tried unsuccessfully to end her life with a cocaine solution.

In the death of the two women no motive could be found. The man who died by his own hand had found life too hard for him. The Long Beach girl had seen her husband chatting with another woman. The gloom of the driving rain probably had much to do with the unusual number of suicidal attempts, police believe.

Mrs. S. P. Osborne, 32 years of age, of 3473 Third avenue, sat in the Sierra Park waiting-room yesterday afternoon until she heard a Pasadena Shortline car approaching. Scribbling her name and address on a scrap of paper, she ran from the station and threw herself in the path of the car.

Both her legs were completely severed and she suffered internal injuries that caused almost instant death. Motorman F. B. Perkins was unable to stop the car until it had run several feet beyond the body.

HAD GONE TO CHURCH
Mrs. Osborne's body was taken to the Elberie & Reynolds funeral parlors in Pasadena and later identified by her husband. Mrs. Osborne's father said she had left home in the morning to attend church and relatives were at a loss to account for her act.

A suit of clothes was among the last mortal concerns of J. F. Atkinson, 7107 Cogswell street, Belvedere, who turned on the gas in the bungalow where he lived alone, according to the report to the sheriff's office.

J. E. Little, owner of the bungalow, found the body on the couch. There was a note which read: "This life is too hard for me. I have one suit of clothes at the Orange City Cleaners."

Atkinson's body was taken to the R. D. Klinker undertaking rooms at Huntington Park. Atkinson's only son, Frank L. Atkinson, 24 at the San Diego naval training station, according to Capt. Bright and Deputy Sheriff Gregg and Cahill, who investigated.

Lucille Elliott, 18 years of age, lay ill in bed at her home at 1112 Tempe avenue, Long Beach, yesterday when her husband, Lawrence Elliott, remarked he was going out for a cigar. He remained longer than she had expected, according to the police report, and Mrs. Elliott, chancing to look out the window, saw him chatting with a woman who was sitting in an automobile.

WILL RECOVER
Mrs. Elliott, it was reported, reached over to her medicine table for a bottle containing a cocaine solution, and drank the contents. She was taken to the Community Hospital, where Dr. A. E. Chase said she will recover.

Mrs. Fred A. Johnson, 1111 Ninth street, Santa Monica, was

FRONK OFFERS TO PAY BACK

Accused Bank Swindler Reported in Plea for Chance to Make Good Losses Here

J. K. Fronk, accused of swindling local banks of more than $200,000, hopes to pay back about $100,000 of his speculations at once, according to reports received here from the East last night, and says, if given the opportunity, he will pay back the entire amount of shortages in a few years, at the rate of $25,000 a year. At a conference to be held in the District Attorney's office it will be decided who will officially go to Chicago to bring Fronk back to Los Angeles.

After Fronk's arrest in Chicago, both the local police department and the sheriff's office contended for the credit for supplying the information that led to the arrest, and both signified a desire to make the Chicago trip.

Chief Deputy Attorney Pitts said yesterday that the preparation of extradition papers for the return of Fronk will be completed today. The drawing of the papers has been signed due to the fact three technical affidavits had not been signed Saturday. It is expected, therefore, that the Chicago trip will be able to leave today. They will first go to Sacramento to get Gov. Richardson's signature on the papers and then directly to Chicago.

As preparations were made for his return here, Fronk, according to dispatches from the East last night, has made a statement he has hidden assets, including loans receivable with which he hopes to make immediate restitution of about $100,000 of his speculation.

Found dead in the bathroom, gas pouring from a near-by heater. She was found by her husband, a Pacific Electric employee, when he returned home from work early yesterday morning. Johnson, according to police, said his wife was in the best of spirits when he left for work and he could give no reason for her act.

On a previous occasion, he said, he had returned to find his wife unconscious beside an open gas heater. She had assured him, he said it was an accident.

Mrs. Johnson's body was taken to the Mandelbaum mortuary at Santa Monica.

MISS LA MARR TO LIE IN STATE

Miss La Marr, known on the stage as Billy Devore, brother of Miss La Marr, arrived here late Saturday night from Fresno.

The funeral services will be conducted by a Christian Science reader, Mr. Watson, and yesterday, and burial will be in Hollywood Cemetery, where a mausoleum will be erected as a monument to the girl. Final arrangements for the funeral services are being made.

Miss La Marr's death Saturday afternoon came as a distinct shock to her many friends and business associates, the dead coming after a rally that had given rise to the belief that her recovery from a several months' illness was but a question of time and rest. After a long confinement as a result of two nervous breakdowns, Miss La Marr had been allowed to leave her home for the first time last Thursday.

The supposed improvement was followed on Friday by a relapse, Miss La Marr sinking into a coma from which she never recovered, gradually growing weaker until

SHE CAFETERIA PIE VERY BAD

Distressed Dishwasher Writes Complaint to Labor Bureau

Discovery of a new literary genius and inability to relieve a distressed dishwasher are one and the same part of the day's work at the local State Labor Bureau, according to Chief Deputy Commissioner Barker.

Incidentally, Barker stated, he may be called upon to decide when pie is too stale for restaurant employees to eat—all as the result of a letter received from an unknown person who signed himself as "Your truly and humbly son," and addressed the commissioner as "Father."

Barker made the following part of the letter public: "I hope you are very well in my good desire. After everything I come like son with his father. Sir, I have been worked in cafeteria and only give to us too bad meals and make pay all the dishes what they or we break. The pie what I give to us is very bad. Three or four days she sit in the icebox and we eat because we are hungry. Friends send inspector. Well, Father, after all, thank you for everything and I hope you live good many years of happy life."

boast, "I could write a better movie play than that," has arrived. Dig into your own or the lives of interesting men and women you know and piece together a most dramatic thought which you think will make an inspiring and uplifting film. In your letter be a genuine contributor in the cause of better pictures.

GET IT IN EARLY
"After it is written, send it immediately to the Los Angeles Times Letter Contest Editor, Los Angeles Times, Los Angeles."

The contest will positively close the 27th inst., at midnight. Letters postmarked after that date will not be opened.

"I want to urge," Mr. De Mille said, "that all those with good ideas, write their suggestions on separate pieces of paper and post them through that mails as fast as possible."

"There is one limitation, however, that should be borne in mind. Don't under any circumstances, write your idea in more than 200 words. Cut out all unnecessary verbiage and limit the words to action."

"And above all things, read the rules carefully. They will be reprinted in The Times from time to time and they must be read as all letters are accepted with the understanding that the senders know fully the regulations of the contest."

AID ASKED TO FIND DR. J. H. BRADFIELD

Aid of The Times in locating Dr. J. H. Bradfield, who is believed to be touring Oregon and California by automobile, was asked yesterday by the Sheridan (Wyo.) Post Enterprise. The father of Dr. Bradfield died suddenly at Sheridan, the memorial said, and he is asked to communicate with the newspaper or with John J. Bentley of Sheridan. Dr. Bradfield left Salem, Or., for San Diego Wednesday, it was learned.

The time to carry out that Prizes aggregating $2100 are offered by Cecil B. De Mille, picture producer, for the letters which best present ideas considered as available for big photoplays. The first prize is $1000.

Mr. De Mille, it will be remembered, sponsored the De Mille-Times Idea Contest of 1922, from which came the idea of "The Ten Commandments."

Read the rules—and write a letter worth $1000. Here are the rulings governing the Los Angeles Times-De Mille Photoplay Letter Contest:

(1) Cecil B. De Mille Picture Corporation will award a prize of $1000 to the person sending in not over TWO HUNDRED (200) words the letter which best presents a theme considered as available for a big picture.

(2) The corporation will award a second prize of $500; third prize of $200; fourth prize of $100 and ten prizes of $50 each.

(3) Finished stories, plays or synopses of stories or plays will not be accepted. No entry of over two hundred words will be read.

(4) Contest opens Sunday, January 31, 1926. Closes midnight Saturday, February 27, 1926. No letters opened postmarked after that date.

(5) In the event of a tie for any prize the full amount of each prize so tied for will be awarded to each tying contestant.

(6) Address all letters to the DE MILLE CONTEST EDITOR, Los Angeles Times, Los Angeles, Cal., who will act as agent for the writers in receiving the letters and submitting them to the Cecil B. De Mille Picture Corporation. Outlines otherwise addressed will be returned unopened and unread.

(7) Cecil B. De Mille, acting for the Cecil B. De Mille Pictures Corporation, will be the sole judge of the merits of the letters.

(8) A committee of five, three appointed by The Times, and two by the De Mille Corporation, will act in an advisory capacity to the management of the contest.

(9) No suggestions made in the De Mille Idea Contest, October 7 to October 31, 1922, sponsored by the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, will be considered in the contest unless resubmitted as in Rule One. The prize-winning idea of the contest of October 7 to October 31, 1922, will be ineligible.

(10) There is no limit to the number of letters any individual may submit.

(11) All are eligible except employees of the Cecil B. De Mille Pictures Corporation, the Los Angeles Times and the Producers Distributing Corporation, or any members of their immediate families.

(12) Because of the great volume of manuscripts none will be returned.

(13) The Cecil B. De Mille Pictures Corporation shall be vested with all rights to each manuscript which is awarded a prize, and shall have the right at any time to use any manuscript and the contents thereof to what a prize is not awarded and in the event of so doing shall pay to the author for any manuscript actually used the value thereof, but not in excess of Fifty ($50) dollars.

(14) Anyone sending in a letter as previously provided agrees to the foregoing rules by so doing.

the Orowaiti, and she has been there since she was beached a year and a half ago. From her position, an observer would think she is just about to head for the open sea.

Harbor men—new style—look it for granted that the wreck of the Orowaiti had fooled the Japanese tanker. The Japanese ship, they said, is on her first trip in these waters, and is not familiar with landmarks. The siren? Imagination, perhaps, or the wind, or the surf pounding against the bones of the Orowaiti.

Harbor men—old style—look a different view of the matter when no one was around to laugh. The sea isn't what it used to be, what with steam and the radio, but Point Sal is a desolate place, and it may be something more than coincidence that a wrecked ship has kept her nose to the sea for a year and a half. Also, wasn't the Japanese stranger almost lured ashore?

And there, as Kipling was wont to say in relating similar incidents, the matter rests.

GIRLS HELD IN MURDER INQUIRY

Carl Weaver First Thought Wreck Victim

Head is Pierced by Bullet; Weapon Recovered

Body Found Saturday in Big Bear Valley

Discovery yesterday that the head of Carl Weaver, Los Angeles youth and supposed victim of an automobile wreck in Big Bear Valley, had been pierced from side to side by a revolver bullet led Sheriff Shay of San Bernardino to place a charge of suspicion of murder against five persons, two of them Los Angeles girls. All five were locked up in the San Bernardino County Jail. The Sheriff believes that among them is Weaver's slayer.

The prisoners are Clarence A. Gallier, 25 years of age, of 134 West Forty-first Place; Nellie Reed, 23, and her sister, Caroline, 21, of 1331 Trinity street; George Opp, 23, and his brother, Wilbur, 26, of Deer Lick Springs. Weaver, who was 22 years of age, was employed by the Triangle Orange County Express Company, 432 South Alameda street, and lived with his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Briggs, 115 West Fifth street. He was slain, it is believed, as the aftermath of a quarrel Saturday night in the dance hall of the Fawnskin Tea Room at Fawnskin, Big Bear Lake. A liquor party in a cabin at Deer Lick Springs is believed by officers to have had a bearing on the affair also.

TAKEN TO SAN BERNARDINO Weaver was found semiconscious in the wreck of his automobile by the side of Big Bear Lake at 11 p. m. Saturday. The discovery was made by Mr. and Mrs. George Greer, who summoned Dr. John L. Boyer of 1041 East Ocean Boulevard, Long Beach, a weekend sojourner at Big Bear. After a hasty examination, Dr. Boyer directed that he be taken to a hospital at once and John McCloskey, a nurse, keeper, started with him for the Ramona Hospital at San Bernardino. By the time McCloskey arrived at the hospital Weaver was dead. His body was taken to the Mark R. Shaw undertaking rooms. All this time there was no suspicion on anyone's part that Weaver had not been injured in an accident. But when an embalmer began preparing the body for burial, the bullet hole, leading from the right side of the man's head to the left, was found.

The wreck of Weaver's car was about 100 feet from the roadway against a tree and down a steep slope of the Deep Creek cutoff road, which leads from the City Creek Road into the Big Bear resorts. Near the wreck, according to Sheriff Shay, his deputies discovered a revolver of which one chamber had been fired. This is the weapon believed to have been used in the murder.

RENTED CABIN FOR NIGHT

According to Sheriff Shay, the events leading up to the tragedy were as follows: Weaver Gallier and the two young women left Los Angeles at 9 p. m. Friday for a week-end outing. On their way up to Big Bear Valley they stopped at Deer Lick Springs, on the Deep Creek cutoff road, and hired a cabin for the balance of the night. Creek cutoff road, and hired a there. All six arrived at Big Bear Saturday at 2:30 p. m., and that night went to the dance at Fawnskin. One of the other dancers told the deputy sheriffs that a violent quarrel broke out in the party during the evening, "because" it was explained, "there were too many fellows and too few girls." The quarrel apparently was patched up, it was said, and the entire party left the dance hall at about 10:15 p. m., or half an hour before Weaver was discovered. They drove away in one car.

LIQUOR BOTTLES FOUND

Questioning of the five prisoners, it was said last night, has not revealed the details of what happened after that. Sheriff Shay said that in the Fawnskin cabin his officers found a number of recently emptied liquor bottles. "I cannot at this time reveal why I say it, but we know we have got the man who killed Weaver," the Sheriff declared, speaking, he said, of the five persons under arrest. When his attention was called to the fact that this statement apparently excluded the two young women, the Sheriff declined to add to it.

The spot where Weaver was found was between Fawnskin and the Big Bear dam, where the Deep Creek Road skirts the lake shore. The highway is well built up with cabins and summer hotels, but few of them are occupied in winter. Sheriff Shay declined to say whether his officers discovered an eye witness to the shooting.

From C. E. Hunt, brother of Gallier, it was learned that the latter had twice called his home last night, the first call at 9:45 o'clock being made to tell his mother they had arrived safely and would return Sunday. At 10:30 o'clock he called a second time, according to Hunt, to give word of the tragedy, saying Weaver had been injured in an accident while en route to Fawnskin inn in company with "George" and a man whose name Hunt could not understand.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Briggs, stepfather and mother of the boy, went to San Bernardino last night, but were too late to see the boy alive. They returned before examination had shown that Weaver had been local department stores.

At the home of the girls' parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Reed said they knew Gallier well, but knew little of Weaver, accepting him as Gallier's friend and allowing the girls to make the trip with the understanding a party of several automobiles, loads of people were going. Both girls work in local department stores.

Funeral arrangements for Weaver will be completed as soon as the body is returned here, Briggs said last night. Burial will be made at Inglewood Cemetery, and services pleas a unique position financial the war, while it lasted, and the ever-growing demand of foreign gold supply it has become the great addition to this national indebtedness. We are so oppressed by the investment for all of our funds entitled "A Hoosier Salad," says "A man who belongs to a party and cannot support its principles or actions ought to get out of it. In my opinion any honorable man would do so, but honorable men with rare exceptions, are not the products of the direct primary. President Coolidge is an outstanding exception to the rule. Had such a hold on the affections of the voters that they support him against all comers, but will not be fortunate enough to have a man of his caliber character before the people at a primary election."

ELECTIONS

Much fun is being poked at our versatile Vice-President, Gen. Dawes, for his efforts to reduce the Senate rules. Believe me, those who are belittling him in the end, have another story to tell. In seeking to amend the rules so that no man, be he from Missouri, South Carolina, California or any other State, delay important legislation by talking nonsense for days at a time and then causing costly and useless articles, not relevant to subject, to be read for further hours by the clerk of the Senate, the Vice-President becomes a great benefactor. Gen. Dawes is the people with him in this fight. They will be heard from with these obstructionists come up for re-election. Dawes will win, in one session of Congress, but the end he will win.

Personally, I was not in favor of the United States joining the World Court or the League of Nations. I am satisfied that the good government of Europe and the peace of the world depend on the knife into us—whereas they get an opportunity. Every body conversant with the facts reports that all of the European governments, even including England, cordially hate the United States. They overlook the fact that they loaned them sufficient funds to carry on the war when their financial resources were exhausted. They even go farther and say that we, in our generosity, because we did not get into the earlier, should waive our claims against them. As an economist, I am not in favor of this government think it would have been just as well to have waived our claims and charged off the debts. They are few people who believe, as the liberal terms of settlement we are granting our debtors that, outside of the debt of the United States, the debts will ever be paid. But, waiting all these considerations, I am not in favor of my party's superior wisdom. It is a government where the majority rules, and it is simply a fact that a few men, opposed to the World Court, can tie up business of this country as they have recently done. Voting in closure at this time was especially distasteful to them because it affected, brought about the result that Dawes advocates. An equally disgraceful filibuster probably will be started when our revenue bill reaches the Senate. The members and United States collectors are delayed in their efforts by the delay in passing the revenue bill. If we are to get relief from the income tax we should get it soon.

To these misguided Republicans who are supporting Judge Clark for the Senate it is well to call attention to the fact that he is using in his campaign the Johnson machine, which he calls the Johnson organization, through California. Elect Clark and you will not have the same opportunity to beat Johnson in 1928 for election in the Senate that you will have if you elect Glavin, who, personally, since he deserves good treatment at the hands of the voters of California, has been loyal to their interests and always on the job. Withstanding his record, however, there will be a very determined effort on the part of Johnson and his supporters to defeat Glavin at the coming election, simply because he has refused to order from the Johnson campaign. The fact, too, that his recommendations have borne no weight with the President, also comes to the attention of the voters in the heart of the obstructive Johnson. He deliberately forfeited any claim to recognition by the administration by his action at the last Presidential election and, by his opposition, the President was elected, to every measure that he has advocated. I trust that the voters of California will not be deceived but will render cordial support to Senator Shortridge.

Relieve Victims of $22,000 Cash and Gems

Similar Theft Week Ago Laid to Band

Two bandits early yesterday morning obtained approximately $22,000 in jewelry, clothing and money when they held up Mrs. Albert H. Busch, her son, Albert Hays Busch, Jr., and a party of friends in front of the Busch home at 354 South Ardmore Boulevard, according to a report made to Wilshire police by the victims.

Included in the Busch party were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lawrence of 144 South Wall Drive, Beverly Hills; Mrs. A. H. Busch, Jr., and Jack Delgado, the chauffeur.

WORK LEISURELY
Mrs. Busch and her friends were returning from a gathering at the Biltmore Hotel about 11:30. As Delgado drew up in front of the Busch residence two men suddenly appeared and commanded the motorists to remain in the car.

The bandits drew their guns and leisurely stripped the victims of their jewelry and money. From Mrs. Busch they obtained about $11,000 worth of valuables, including diamond rings, a platinum bracelet set with diamonds, a diamond-studded brooch, a watch, a string of pearls and a purse.

Mrs. Lawrence informed detectives she lost an $800 sash skin set, a diamond ring valued at $100 and $35 in cash. Mr. Lawrence was forced to give up his wallet containing $100.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Busch, Jr., were robbed of a diamond ring, a watch and other valuables. The chauffeur lost approximately $40, according to his report to police.

TWO CASES SIMILAR
The bandits were described as being 35 years of age, of medium build and rough in appearance. After obtaining the valuables the pair disappeared on foot. Wilshire police believe they had a car parked with a confederate within a short distance ready to pick them up.

Police believe the robbery of the Busch party was committed by the same bandits who obtained $12,575 worth of jewels and currency from an after-theater party a week ago. The victims in that robbery were Mrs. Alfred Stern and her son Herman, of 621 South Andrews Place, and Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Fleishman of 701 South Marlboro street. They were robbed of two of three bandits as they drove up in front of a residence.

Both these robberies were similar to one several weeks ago in which Mrs. Edward Smith was robbed of $50,000 in currency and the nude body of Miss Olive Lenore Olson, 35 years of age, in a bathtub partly filled with water. The cause of the death is a mystery, the officers reported.

Miss Olson, who was a saleswoman at a downtown department store, had been dead about three days, the detectives believe. Mrs. Annie Netfow, landlady of the apartment-house, became worried because she had not seen Miss Olson for several days and summoned police to the apartment when the woman failed to answer a knock on her door yesterday.

It is believed by the detectives that the woman died of heart disease or fell asleep and was drowned. No evidence of suicide was found, the officers reported.

Coroner Nance said he will order an autopsy to determine the cause of death. The body was removed to the J. D. Paris undertaking parlors, Tenth and Flower streets. Detectives are searching for relatives.

FIND BODY OF WOMAN IN BATHTUB

Victim Dead Several Days, According to Detectives Who Break in Door

Breaking down the door of an apartment at 124 South Flower street, Detective Lieutenant Paulridge and Hughie yesterday found the nude body of Miss Olive Lenore Olson, 35 years of age, in a bathtub partly filled with water. The cause of the death is a mystery, the officers reported.

Miss Olson, who was a saleswoman at a downtown department store, had been dead about three days, the detectives believe. Mrs. Annie Netfow, landlady of the apartment-house, became worried because she had not seen Miss Olson for several days and summoned police to the apartment when the woman failed to answer a knock on her door yesterday.

Opens Library of Test Films for Directors

Announcement of the establishment of the Screen Library Service, an organization which will supply casting directors with films showing actors in characteristic poses, was announced yesterday by Brooks B. Harding.

Harding, who is president of the service, declares that the organization will limit itself to supplying test films of actors to directors and will not function as an employment agency. It will derive its revenue from small fees charged to actors for filing their films in the library.

Let the Two-piece Frock Reign On

Everyone knows how smart it is! But this Spring it is playing new tricks on us by adding an adorable pleated yoke and hiking itself up in front. You'll have to see them to understand the nonchalant charm of the newest two-piece models.

Fashion's Come on Ahead To Tell Us About Spring

Every one falls in love with Spring the minute she appears in town. 'Twould be a sad affair, indeed, for any miss who claims to be fashionable not to be all dressed and ready. And there's no reason why that should ever happen. Fashion has already made Spring headquarters at our store and here her followers may come to learn every fascinating new line and detail—to see these perfect and stunning first arrivals.

One of the loveliest things about this Spring is its color scheme. It is a rosy season, with bois de rose in full range and light greens, tans and blues to supplement it. Colors are smartest in half-tone shades.

There is a subtle something about smartness which it takes the ensemble idea to achieve. A guide to perfect costume lies in matching the color of your hat to that of your fur, gloves and hosiery, with scarf and handbag in blending tones.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

While Northern Europe is working over floods and central heating that does not heat, visitors to North Africa may read of the winter annoyances while dining out of doors among the orange trees. Algeria is crowded with tourists, either basking in a friendly sun or making the city their headquarters for a tour of the French colonies.

Many are taking advantage of the French "line" tours, finding that they are cared for from the time they sail from Marseilles. Randalls, lines and hotels are operated by the company, and both Algeria and Tunisia are centers for trips to the coast. Tunisia has its own attractions with the archeological traces of the Roman period and Carthaginian civilization in the region. Motor tours from both Tunisia and Algeria lead to Bliska, Laghat and other places where golf, motor and modern comforts are to be found among the palm trees. Another tour from Algeria west along the coast to Oran also is proving most popular.

Mrs. Otis Chatfield-Taylor of Santa Barbara, who has been staying with the second secretary of the United States Embassy in Rome, and Mrs. Crocker, has left the Eternal City for Hamburg, Germany, while Mr. and Mrs. Harold Davis have been passing several days at the Hotel Continental in Paris, and Mr. and Mrs. Brown Caldwell and their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Caldwell, also of Santa Barbara, who have been touring Italy, have arrived in Rome, where they are domiciled at the Grand Hotel.

Mrs. Charles F. McCarty of Los Angeles is a guest of the Queen's Hotel in Nice, during the winter season on the Riviera, and will remain for about six months. Mr. and Mrs. Howard J. McKee of Los Angeles, who have been traveling in the Central European countries, were recent visitors to Vienna, the Austrian capital, where they registered at the Hotel Bristol.

Mrs. Albert C. Blum of West Adams street, accompanied by Mrs. M. F. Chapman and Miss Adelaide Stewart, were among the passengers who sailed on the Mediterranean cruise aboard the S.S. Scythia from New York January 24, last.

Allen W. Skinner, an old resident of Los Angeles, who is domiciled at the Hayward since his recent return from a summer abroad, will go east the 11th inst. and will March 25, next, from New York aboard the S.S. Columbia for England, planning to pass the summer in Lucerne, Switzerland.

Mrs. E. M. Brown and Mrs. Martha Schmitt, who are guests of the Hotel Mirabeau in Lausanne, Switzerland, Mrs. Brown and Miss Schmitt have been traveling in Italy and Switzerland for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Blumberg, accompanied by Mrs. Blumberg of New Rochelle, N. Y., have arrived in Dresden, Germany, where they are staying at the Europa Hotel, while Henry Menjou, who has been wintering in the Alps, has returned to Los Angeles after a recent gala dinner at the Hotel Esplanade in Berlin.

Hugh G. Gibson, United States Minister in Bern, Switzerland, who is a native of Los Angeles and Mrs. Gibson, have been passing the holidays at the Hotel Esplanade and Winter Palace in Gstaad, Switzerland.

Mr. and Mrs. Roth Hamilton and their two attractive daughters, Miss Mignon and Miss Helen Hamilton, accompanied by Robert Rana, Paul Havens and Alexander Williamson, all of Los Angeles, have been passing the past fortnight in a tour by motor through Southern Italy.

John Hamilton, Los Angeles, and Mrs. H. H. Jacobs and Miss Jacobs of Pasadena, who are passing some time in Paris this winter, are stopping at the Hotel de Ville, while Mrs. Irene Sanford, also of the Crown City, who is passing the winter in the French Riviera, was noticed with a party of friends at Ciro's restaurant in Monte Carlo last week.

Kathleen Johnson, 821 N. Vian of Santa Barbara, who has been traveling in Northern Italy, has arrived in Florence from Milan and are guests at the Hotel de Ville. Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Von Wemert of Hollywood, have arrived in Paris during the course of a winter visit to the Continent, and are stopping at the Hotel Regina, while Miss Harriet G. Gunn is registered with a party of friends at the American Express Company for mail and tours.

Mrs. Byron F. Armstrong of Pasadena has been passing several days in the French capital while on a tour of the continent. She is a guest at 45 Rue La Bruyere.

For Visitors
Mrs. Jesse Arthur of 4018 West second street and her daughter, Miss Lucille, are entertaining Thursday afternoon with a charmingly appointed bridge-tee in the Chinese room of the Hotel Esplanade, honoring Mrs. E. W. Lanoraux, Mrs. Eugene Glass and her daughter, Miss Harriet Glass, all of Little Creek, Mich. who are wintering in Southern California. Blue and gold candles adorned the tea table and places were arranged for forty guests.

Bridge Luncheons
Mrs. Willie Fies and her daughter, Mrs. Maurice Wakeman, are planning a series of bridge luncheons this season at their home in Windsor Boulevard.

Luncheon-Bridge
One of the attractive affairs of the past week was the luncheon presided over by Miss Irene Wheeler, Tuesday afternoon in the Chinese room of the Hotel Esplanade, decorations being especially attractive in orchid and green color motif and Chinese place cards marked the occasion for Mrs. G. Chamberlain, Mrs. Jack Prinsen, Mrs. E. Kellogg, Mrs. J. Allyn, Mrs. F. Campbell, Mrs. J. L. Brown, Mrs. Fred Stevenson, Miss M. Engle, Mrs. Wilbur, Mrs. Street, Mrs. Rheeta, Miss Ruth Kellogg, Miss Amber Engle, and the hostess. The bridge was the feature of the afternoon's entertainment.

Engagement Tea
One of the attractive affairs of recent date was the bridge-tea with Mrs. Noble Downey at North Serrano avenue entertained at her home, the occasion serving to announce the engagement of her daughter, Miss Marguerite Downey to Theodore Wallace Johnson. The home decorations

The Woman and Her Job

BY VALERIE WATROUS

WHAT ABOUT YOUR JOB?

Dear Mrs. Watrous: I read your article of the 22nd, "Your Job and Tomorrow," with a great deal of interest. With a true regard for the fitness of things, I think that the girl was wrong to quit her job without a moment's notice. Not at all business-like nor square.

Then I wondered: Was she wrong? Let me tell you my experience: Four years ago my aunt moved to Los Angeles. A year later I joined her. We are both business women; she an accountant and I a stenographer. We immediately purchased our own home,

a lovely five-room bungalow. Then we completely furnished the house.

Later we bought a car, paying cash. We have paid our bills for taxes, food, insurance, water, lights, gas, everything, right on time.

I came to California with a firm determination to take what job I could find, put up with long hours,

low pay, and hard work, if necessary. I made up my mind to be happy and contented. During the last three years I have worked hard, putting in long hours in disagreeable offices. I have faithfully endeavored to put up with as well as humanly possible. I have had nine years' experience as a stenographer and secretary. For eleven years I have worked with men who were associates of Judge

Gary and the Hon. Frank Kellogg,

Secretary of State.

I have tried to execute each bit of work I was called upon to do with an eye for the morrow. My chief worry has been to keep my finger in such a position that anyone, at any time, could immediately find the desired folder.

I try to type my letters as articially as possible, so that when I am asked to give information I like to give him more than he asks for. I happen to possess a keen memory and use it to my power to know when and where to use it.

Of course, my efforts have been rewarded to some extent. I have worked up here in Los Angeles to a salary of $140 per month. But after I have told you how I have put up with long hours and cold rooms, for perhaps six months or a year, my employer tells me some foolish little lie and dismisses me on the spot.

My employers have no qualms about dismissing me without notice. I have had to be on my feet morrow. What about the feelings of a conscientious, capable employee when she is discharged for no reason at all? Can you blame

a conscientious, capable employee when she is discharged for

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Hardwood Floors

To preserve the light clear appearance of hardwood floors they should be wiped occasionally with a cloth and clear water.

Just a Little Thought

When "doing up" any preserves or jellies, remember that friend of yours who is naturally a jar of homemade jelly would send a real treat to a person in those circumstances.

Reverse the Order

When putting the laundry away, put away the cleanest things at the bottom of the pile so that all the linens will wear evenly and not some things be worn out while others are almost new.

If You Have Trouble

If you are continually breaking eggs when trying to season them, try breaking the eggs one at a time into a funnel, which has been placed over a jelly tumbler.

The white will run down the funnel leaving the yolk in the funnel.

be dug has a deep stratum of fine sand and gravel which acts as a natural and perfect filtration system. Water from the Colorado River finds its way into this gravel area in large quantities and in passing through the deposits of sand and gravel is efficiently filtered and freed from all silt and cial water Bureau is now completing an exhaustive survey of the entire desert and mountain country between Los Angeles and the Colorado. This survey has carried Mulholland's crews of engineers over practically every inch of the territory from Boulder Canyon to the Mexican border.

In case a speaker exceeds the time allotted for delivery, he is not disqualified but is stopped by the presiding officer and judged by his performance up to that moment.
